Fields celebrates 100th

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Eva Fields celebrated her 100th birthday in her home in Antioch with a number of well-wishers. While enjoying cake and coffee, Eva regaled the audience with stories of her youth.

"I was born in a snowstorm," said Fields. "The blacksmith rode into Hainesville to get the doctor."

Fields was born six miles south of Lake Villa in a town called Monaville. In 1911 she came to Antioch. Fields then worked at the Simons House.

"I was paid $2.50 an hour plus room and board," said Fields. "Mr. Simons was very good to me. He treated me like a daughter."

Fields went on to work for Antioch Community High School. She worked there for 21 years in the cafeteria. She also worked 21 summers at the Slide Inn and five summers at the Dog and Suds. In addition, she also did catering for parties.

Fields has been a member of the American Legion Auxiliary for more than 50 years, a charter member of the Lake Villa VFW, a 50-year member of the Rebekah Club 82, the Royal Neighbors for 72 years, and two card clubs for 25 years.

Fields has been married three times and says, "I could have had two more." She lives with her son, Ron Barron.

"I have a wonderful son," remarked Fields. "He does everything for me."

Domanchuk remains as county candidate

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County Electoral Board has upheld the candidacy petition of County Board candidate, Kenneth Domanchuk of Antioch (R-Dist. 1). The action will allow his name to appear on the March ballot.

Domanchuk's petition was challenged by Chris Peters. Of the 45 signatures gathered by Domanchuk, Peters challenged the validity of 17. In an earlier hearing, the board had seven signatures struck because they were not registered voters in the district.

Peters, who made the challenge, with her attorney Robert Long, returned to the 10th floor of the Lake County Courthouse on Friday with a handwriting analyst. However, the board upheld enough signatures to keep Domanchuk on the ballot.

"There are two sides to every story," said Mary Ellen Vanderventer, elections administrator. "The board has always ruled in favor of ballot access."

According to Vanderventer, the present board has been together for nine years and has an unofficial policy to provide wide ballot access to candidates and voters.

"In nine years, the board has never been overturned," said Vanderventer.

Petition challenges in general become cost prohibitive beyond a ruling from the (Continued on page 8)

State Bank kicks off glittering centennial

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

All that glitters was not just gold at the State Bank of the Lakes', formerly the State Bank of Antioch, opening night centennial celebration. Bank board members, staff, and customers were all on hand to honor the bank's 100-year birthday celebration.

Guests were treated to champagne and hors d'oeuvres, while enjoying the David Schripsema Quartet. Upstairs, Barbara Fackler entertained guests with elegant harp music. The bank was decked out in streamers and balloons which, when combined with some of the glittery and gorgeous attire of the attendees, turned the bank into an eye popping wonderland.

Antioch Village, Township, and Lake County officials joined in the celebration. Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, Trustees Mabel Weber and Dorothy Larson, as well as Township Trustee Tim Osmond were just a few of the many officials spotted at the festivities.

Besides the beautiful decorations, the bank sported memorabilia from the past 100 years. Visitors were invited to trace the history of the bank with pictures dating from the early 1900s. For history buffs, deeds from 1899, loan applications from 1918, and checks from the '40s were

The open house, which was held at the Antioch bank, ran from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m., sometimes with standing room only crowds.

Volunteers help forest preserve clear brush

LAKE ZURICH—Three men braved the cold, arctic winter air and volunteered to remove non-native shrubbery at the Cuba Marsh Forest Preserve as part of the Lake County Forest Preserve District's Conservation Workdays project. Jim Johnson, of Lake Bluff and a teacher at Lake Zurich Middle School—North, was one of the three who carried pruning shears and saws along a clearing off Ela Road last weekend. Paul Traggessor, of Lake Zurich, and Paul Higdon, of Barrington, also clipped brush, afterwards spraying herbicide on the stumps to prevent re-growth. Contact the forest preserve for information on future workdays scheduled throughout the winter at preserves and state parks throughout the county.

Trustees oppose Rte. 53 extension through village

HAWTHORN WOODS—Village trustees approved a resolution stating their opposition to the proposed extension of Route 53 through the village, and President Douglas F. Challos has agreed to sign it, something he originally was against. The board approved a similar resolution four years ago. Copies of the ordinance will be sent to the governor, the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois Toll Highway Authority with the former ordinance attached. Other than including opposition from new trustees, the resolution also includes details on environmental concerns. Long Grove trustees have also voiced opposition against the highway.

Hwy. commissioner creates plowing mess

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—Jim Semmerling, highway commissioner said he received a call from Township Trustee Carolyn Siebert assuring him of needed funds for labor if he plowed during last week's snowstorm. Siebert said she called Semmerling but only to ask him to plow. She said she would support a small increase in overtime to pay for plowing. Semmerling sent a letter a few weeks ago saying he would only plow from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mobile home group learns new law bid

WAUKEGAN—State Representative Virginia Fiester Frederick plans on continuing her cause for mobile home park reform in the next legislative session. Frederick has been a champion of mobile home park residents for the majority of her 16 years in the legislature. The Lake Forest Republican is retiring after the next session. A group of about a dozen Northeast Lake County Mobile Home owners learned of the legislation, including an ombudsman bill, Sunday.

Anti-gang task force to attack growing problem

LAKE COUNTY—An anti-gang task force, formed by Mundelein Police Chief Raymond Rose, was scheduled to meet Thursday for the first time, with more than 20 police chiefs from around the county expected to attend, including those from Lake Zurich, Vernon Hills, Buffalo Grove, Hawthorn Woods and Libertyville. Several villages already have anti-gang ordinances, with others planning to follow, as gang-related activity is being reported from all areas of the county. The task force will attempt to attack gang problems from a regional level and combine individual forces as one.

Antioch resident celebrates 100th birthday party

ANTIOCH—Eva Fields celebrated her 100th birthday in her home in Antioch with a number of well-wishers. Fields was born six miles south of Lake Villa in a town called Monaville, Illinois. In 1911 she came to Antioch. In honor of her birthday she received a letter from the Governor. Friends and family were on hand to help her celebrate.

Union hurls more allegations at chief

ROUND LAKE BEACH—A special meeting of the village was held to give police officers a chance to speak out on allegations against Police Chief Richard Jablonski. Jablonski was a recipient of a 19-2 no-confidence vote by the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP). FOP President David Hare said Jablonski has ordered police to change the wording of police reports, not give arrestees Miranda warnings on some occasions, and to handcuff people who were not under arrest to a wall. Jablonski said he is insuring the police department is run professionally and the officers don't appreciate many of the changes.

Savage to face 3 separate trials in infant deaths

WAUCONDA—Gail Savage will face three separate trials in the deaths of her three infants, something her attorney, Robert Hauser, wanted to consolidate. Lake County Judge Charles Scott ruled the three deaths were separate cases, happening months and years apart, and should be tried before different juries. Savage, 30, of Wauconda, has been awaiting the start of her trial on Feb. 14 in Waukegan from the Lake County Jail. She will now first be tried in the death of Cynthia Gail, who died June 26 last year. Trials in the deaths of her two other infants, who died in 1990 and 1992, will follow. If found guilty in one case, Savage faces a minimum of 20 years imprisonment, with a life sentence if found guilty in more than one of the deaths.

Six apprehended in Gurnee gun thefts

GURNEE—Cooperation between two law enforcement agencies was the key in an investigation which led to the arrest suspects in the Ace Hardware gun robbery in Gurnee. Bryan A. Olsen and Joseph M. Sacramento, both of Gurnee, were arrested Tuesday by Gurnee police. A 16-year-old has been referred to juvenile authorities. Waukegan police arrested Albert Donley of Chicago, Charles Winfrey of Waukegan and Byron Jones of Libertyville.

Post office rumors denied by officer

INGLESIDE—Frank Schuster of the Ingleside Post Office said rumors that the facility is closing are inaccurate. It will merely become a branch of the Fox Lake Post Office. A notice has been posted to that effect. Residents who wish to comment may fill out a form and hand it in to the postmaster.

Firefighters battle bravely for lost cause

LIBERTYVILLE—Fire all but destroyed a residence at 339 N. Butterfield Lane Monday morning. No one in the Michael McGrath family was reported home at the time of the fire but two cats were trapped in the basement and perished from the smoke. The Libertyville Fire Department is still investigating the blaze with the help of the state fire marshal. The loss is estimated to be well over $100,000.

Trustees balk at mayor's choices for new trustee

LINCOLNSHIRE—Mayor Barbara LaPiana and the four trustees making up the five-member village board are locked in a battle in appointing someone to fill the seat vacated this past November by Mary Anne Ehlert. The trustees rejected eight candidates nominated by LaPiana, saying a candidate had already been approved during a closed session last week by a majority of the board. She retorted by saying the trustees choice was new to the community and was inexperienced in local or civic organizations. Both the mayor and board must be in agreement on a candidate before the person can be approved. LaPiana has started looking for new candidates.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

Prosecute them

I would hope that this group of immature snowmobilers that cut down the trees in Grant Township will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. They have done criminal damage to the property and trespassed illegally.

She looked it up

I am calling from Ingleside and I am confused about what the people meant when they referred to Christmas as a pagan holiday. I looked pagan up in the dictionary and it said it was a person who was neither a Christian, Moslem, or Jew - a heathen. Christmas is the day to celebrate the birth of baby Jesus on earth and to many Christians it is a day we hold dear to our hearts. So what if Dec. 25 is not the exact day he was born?

What's more important?

As I slid on my unplowed roads this morning I have to ask what is more important to Jim Semmerling. Being spiteful to the township officials or the safety of residents? Does this mean I will get a tax deduction because we are saving money on road maintenance? I am fed up.

You read it

Was the BEST story on the erroneously placed signature newsworthy? Is Lakeland doing their National Enquirer impersonation? Why not print something about the illegal tactics by BEST and the lawsuit that was subsequently slapped against them.

Editorial note: Dear reader, a story was printed about the possibility of a lawsuit against BEST by the Antioch teachers. At this time, BEST spokesperson Vernon Holmes denies the organization has been served with any court documents concerning that matter.

More tea

Yikes, I too was a victim of the sewer water ice tea in Fox Lake. I was unfortunately in the drive through and could not take it back. I dumped it on the ground and no doubt it has already eaten its way through the pavement. Hooray for the person who took theirs back.

Help the kids

I would like to say something to Grant Community High Counselors. You should be in your offices and help students. You are not being paid to go out to lunch all day and drink coffee. Give students some help!

He likes him

I would like to comment on Richard Jablonski, police chief of Round Lake Beach. I have had dealings with him both in Round Lake and Lindenhurst and know of no finer police chief anywhere. I think we will ultimately have one of the best police forces in the country with him leading it.

Question of guilt

I read an editorial letter to the Editor concerning the conviction of Juan Rivera for the murder of Holly Staker. I followed this story very closely especially because I am the mother of twin daughters. Like the jurors, I am frightened by the verdict to guilty. It seemed Lake County needed a scapegoat. Perhaps there was too much pressure on the task-force. If this young man was railroaded, we have a moral obligation to correct this. Is there anyone else out there who thinks he may not be guilty?

Not fair

Why is the Wauconda man put in jail with a $1 million bond for shooting his girlfriend, while the ex-Island Lake police officer is able to shoot some man and never charged? He is allowed to roam free and maybe do it again.

Music lover

I would like to thank TB Waters of Ingleside for presenting a great jam session every Wednesday and Sunday night. The Red-eye Express is a great band.

Can't find him

I am very angry. I live in the Heights and I can't get a hold of the mayor. The girl who answers the phone says he comes in every once in a while. I have called even the chicken-coop and he is not there. Where are our leaders in the Heights?

Sorry about that

Please print this in its entirety because I said some things last week I did not mean. Last week I said something about cutting peoples co-axial. I would never would do that. It was just an experiment to see who the complainers would be. My experiment proved to me that half the people who complained to me go around cutting other peoples co-axial. I apologize to anyone who may be mad about what I said. It will not happen again.

Bad news

Hey guys, did you hear the news? Sniper got busted by the FCC. He is gonna be spending some time paying some fines. He got all of his CB equipment taken away. I am an outbender now.

Better ask him

Maybe Harry Brown should run for sheriff. I think he would be an excellent candidate.

Editorial note: Dear readers, for some unknown reason, individuals have been calling into Lipservice claiming to be Harry Brown. After speaking to the real Harry Brown and comparing the Lipservice tapes, we are convinced that the voice on the tape is not the voice of Harry Brown. We apologize for any inconvenience this has caused Mr. Brown and we will not print any more messages regarding Harry Brown.

Lost the bet

I have a bet that this will not get into the newspaper. I have a Wauconda Leader in front of me. It has articles about the Mundelein wrestlers, Stevenson wrestlers, and the Carmel wrestlers. Too bad Wauconda doesn't have any wrestlers.

Insurance help

This is to help "Insurance bind." If your HMO is through your employer, maybe they can help you. Or, try the HMO beneficiary relations unit. If neither will help you, tell them you will release their names to the newspaper. Just like any other business, they do not want any bad publicity. Give it a try.

More insurance help

This is in response to the HMO patient. The first place to start is in the office of the doctor who referred you. Did that doctor give you a referral? If so, they should have a copy in their file for verification. Another step is to call the number on your HMO insurance card. Tell them what has taken place. HMO's are very strict and you have to follow their guidelines.

Things aren't ducky

I want to call about the goose problem in Lake County. They are damaging the golf courses, beaches, and park areas. What are we going to do about them? We need to start eliminating them with a controlled hunt and then donate the food to the jail and nursing homes. Each year the geese have five little ones. What are we going to do with all these geese five years from now?

Unwanted development

Regarding the proposed development in Waukegan, personally I would not let them pour a pad for my garbage cans or do some carpentry in my dog house.

Likes Lipservice

Why is it that Lipservice is only one page two weeks in a row? It seems like it is getting smaller and smaller each week. Lipservice is my favorite part of the newspaper and it is the first thing I turn to every Friday. If this is one of the new changes you guys are talking about, I don't like it. If so, I will definitely not subscribe next year.

Editorial note: Dear reader, believe it or not, the amount of calls are down. We figure that during the holidays people are too busy to call and complain. But, cheer up. Between the January holiday hills and income tax time, folks are sure to be in that Lipservice mood.

Sick voter

I am so sick of Phil Crane. I think he is arrogant and I am not going to vote for him anymore.

Unhappy customer

I would like to say some things about Cen-Com. First of all, the employees are some of the worst I have ever dealt with in my life. You have no people skills and no ability to deal with the public. I am a taxpayer in Round Lake Beach and I pay for your salaries. I expect some courtesy when I call there. If I could change and go to another community, I would. Cen-Com is a joke. Get it fixed. You are messing with lives here.

Watch your words

Let's hear it for the public safety director of Antioch. Once again he has embarrassed us. You are in a position to safeguard Antioch. Sometimes you should listen before you talk.

Boss of no one

I am just really curious. It has come to my attention that the Round Lake Park Police Department is paying for a lieutenant and a sergeant in a supervisory capacity at night, but there is no one working under them. Why do we have to pay the extra money and have these men's skills wasted? There is no one to supervise.

Costly kitty

I have a definite complaint regarding animal abandonment. Someone abandoned an orange and white tabby cat at a kennel last Saturday when it was minus 3 F. I ended up having to take him to a vet because he was suffering from hypothermia. It is not my cat but I am now stuck paying for his care. How could you people abandon the cat that way? There is a $500 fine for that. You should be shot.

Winter parking

A reminder to Antioch Village residents that it is unlawful to park any vehicle on any village street for longer than three minutes to unload passengers and 30 minutes to unload property after the snow begins to fall and accumulate over one inch. This prohibition will continue during the winter snow season.

Recycling

Antioch Township residents are reminded that weekly recycling is available. Residents are asked to bring their recyclables to the northern lot of Antioch Community High School from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. For more information, call the township at 395-3378.

School closings

Parents of students in Antioch's Community Consolidated School District 34 are reminded that school closing announcements due to bad weather will be made locally on channels: WKRS-WXLC 1220 AM, WNIZ 97 FM, AND WLIP-WJZQ 1050 AM 95.1 FM. In the event that weather and road conditions in the early morning would not permit the safe transportation of students, schools will be closed by the joint action of District 34 and Antioch Community High School. While WGN, WMAQ, and WBBM FM will also be called, the local stations often announce local school closings earlier than Chicago stations.

Associations to meet

Allwest expansion plans are stalled

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

After the Village of Antioch offered a preliminary incentive package to keep All West Plastics in town, company officials have not heard again from the village. The company has expansion plans which include nearly doubling their work force.

Village officials toured the plant on Oct. 30 in an effort to evaluate the company's need for an upgrade of water and utility service as well as a road extension.

"I'm not sure what all this means,"

said Doug Westergaard, co-owner of the company.

At this time, the company is investigating various financial vehicles to fund the expansion. They do not expect to make a move until sometime in February.

Originally, the company was told that in order to expand on the current site, the company would need an 8-inch water line to provide for the fire suspension system. All of the service upgrades would have to be brought down Dwight Court, which runs parallel with Drom Court. A road extension would also be needed down Dwight Court because the area south would be landlocked. However, Allwest has not received final word on the upgrades.

Allwest has been looking at several areas, including the Antioch site in order to expand operations. According to Westergaard, the company is still evaluating several locations.

The company employs 65 employees. With the expansion, All West would add an additional 45 employees. It is estimated that 25 percent of the new jobs will be skilled positions and the company plans to continue its practice of hiring locally.

Waterway referendum gains support

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

Dignitaries gathered in Fox Lake, and gave support for a waterway referendum to keep the agency alive.

Some of those in attendance to hear Chairman of the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency Dr. William C. Dam solicit support were state Sen. Dick Klemm of the 32nd district, Rep. Verna L. Clayton of the 51st district; Rep. Robert Churchill of the 62nd district; and Rep. Cal Skinner, Jr. of the 64th district; as well as Rep. Al Salvi of the 52nd district.

George Thompson of McHenry, treasurer for the agency, also stated his endorsement for the referendum to be on the March primary ballot.

Ed Sindles, Republican candidate for county sheriff, made a brief appearance at the meeting's start.

Dam commenced the meeting held at Dockers, 33 W. Grand Ave., by handing out packets of published articles from various newspapers on the agency's accomplishments.

"We're very concerned that a void will be felt" if the agency ceases to exist, said Dam. "The burden has fallen on us not to just ask what can be done, but to insure that the agency survives."

A sunset clause could end the agency after 10 years of operations on Dec. 31, 1994. A referendum in the spring, however, could keep the agency alive, and officials are working diligently to do so.

Chairman Dam stated that over the years the agency has made some marked improvements in the form of dredging, clearing of boat passageways, and generally cleaning up the lakes among other things.

At the meeting, the agency head noted that so far about 30,000-cubic-yards of silt and muck have been dumped onto Ackerman Island as part of dredging projects on Grass Lake channels. Also a plethora of old tires and plain garbage has been extracted from lakes in the last few years, making it safer and healthier place.

Dam noted that the waters of the Chain now are cleaner than clear Lake Geneva in terms of the most common form of water-borne bacteria, E-Coli.

Many of the luncheon guests agreed that much has been achieved by the group. "I think you've made some remarkable improvements, otherwise I wouldn't be supporting you," said Sen. Klemm.

Rep. Churchill invited Karen Kabbes, executive director of the agency, to travel to the state capital Jan. 13 to meet with legislators.

Antioch Senior Center offers activities, meals

Playing keep-up

For whatever reasons, I recently found my thoughts drifting back to my husband's hourly wage when we were first married, 31 years ago, as compared to his present hourly wage. My calculations revealed he now makes approximately four to five times more per hour than he did back then. I also thought how fortunate we have been that he has been ready, willing and able to earn a decent living. I also recalled what we paid for our first home in Chicago and realized the value of that same home has increased seven times over. Our Antioch home has increased approximately eight times from our original price.

The price of automobiles and gasoline has skyrocketed during the same period of time, not to mention groceries, gas electric, phone, etc. Suddenly the wage he makes per hour no longer seemed as meaty to me. It became clear why we do not have more of a nest egg tucked away for our golden years. The phrase "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer" came into mind.

However, money is not everything and we have been blessed with good health, great kids, a comfortable roof over our heads, good food on the table, ample clothing on our backs and many good friends. All just food for thought if you find yourself pondering why the almighty dollar doesn't stretch as far as one thinks it should or would like it to. At those times, count your non-material blessings and maybe you too would like it to. At those times, count your non-material blessings and maybe you too will realize you are truly a millionaire.

began to reflect on my own childhood and the best memories that came forth were not filled with material things. Instead I recalled simple, warm, personal moments with family members.

I always felt safe and protected when my father was near, like when he took my small hand and placed it into his big, strong hand while crossing the streets on our way to a park outing. I remembered many family dinners around our old, worn, wooden kitchen table and how often my married sister and her family joined us there.

Christmas time meant a trip to downtown Chicago with my marvelous Aunt Caroline. Oak Street Beach visits were always highlighted by my cousin Betty and I feeding the pigeons. My married sister lived in the apartment above ours and her door and heart was always open and receptive to visitors. If I wanted to know "anything" about "anything" she always had the right answers. All of these pleasant memories reminded me of the importance of giving of self rather than things.

One can only hope that when my sweet Alyssa reflects back on the times she spent with MeeMee, she too will be filled with pleasant thoughts revolving around paddle boat rides, bicycle excursions, raccoon encounters, hand feeding the ducks and geese, holding and petting a dog or a cat, storybook readings, etc.

Farrell believes strong leadership is the key

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Grant Farrell, Democratic candidate for the Lake County Board (Antioch-Dist. 1), believes strong leadership is just the prescription for what ails one of the fastest growing counties in the state. At a time when Antioch is facing numerous growth issues such as over-crowded schools, increasing development, and an influx of new residents, Farrell believes he can relate to the needs of a large cross-section of citizens.

Farrell, soon to be 42, has a wide range of experience in both the private and non-profit sectors. As a licensed plumber, he managed commercial and residential projects. He has held management positions with various Fortune 500 companies, primarily in the health care field. In 1991, he founded GBF Management, a business consulting firm and holds the position of both owner and president.

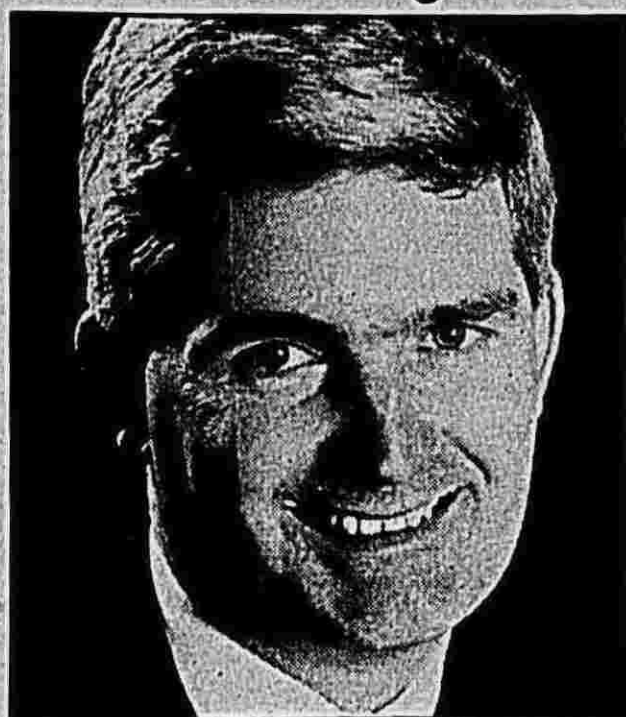

In the non-profit sector, Farrell is finishing his second term as president of the Illinois Branch of the Orton Dyslexia Society, an international non-profit organization dedicated to the advancement of study and treatment of dyslexia. Farrell is a frequent speaker at workshops and seminars for educators and parents of dyslexics throughout Illinois. He is currently serving his third term as an elected official on the executive Health and Welfare Board for Plumbers Local 93 and is also a member of the Experimental Aircraft Association.

Farrell believes local politicians need to become more involved and more visible in issues that affect the quality of life or area residents.

"If I were elected, I would be much more visible. Saturdays, Sundays, and evenings are not your own anymore," explained Farrell. "Local officials need to attend more meetings such as the school board and the high school."

Farrell, a 13-year resident of Antioch, has some strong opinions about the problems facing residents. He questions the need for the proposed Commonwealth Edison's overhead power lines. He also takes issue with how and where they will be constructed.

"When they come up here, we are treated like second-class citizens," said Farrell. "They discussed underground power lines in Libertyville, but not in Antioch and Lake Villa."

Farrell also worries about the high school and its continuing budget problems. While cautioning money is not always the answer, he feels local politicians should become more involved.

"Antioch Community High School needs help and I would do what I could to help," said Farrell, who has a son currently attending the school. Yet, he is sensitive to the needs of senior citizens in the area who live on a fixed income.

"Impact fees need to be higher when new people move into the area," remarked Farrell. "I would rather they nail me one time instead of continuing to raise taxes."

When asked why he decided to run, Farrell said he thinks politics is a bit of being in the right place at the right time. He believes the incumbent, Jim Fields, is vulnerable at this time as a result of some of the controversial issues such as the riverboat proposal and the high tension wires. He suspects Fields position on these issues could cause him to be unseated.

However, Farrell also realizes there are a number of voters who will vote a straight Republican ticket regardless of the candidate. Nevertheless, he does believe a Democrat can win.

"I know what needs to be done. The question is whether people will split the ticket," said Farrell. "Do I think a Democrat can win? Any candidate can win anywhere."

Winners announced in VFW competition

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have announced the winners of the district level competition of the Voice of Democracy contest. Geoffrey Hoagland, sponsored by Elgin Post 1307 was the first place winner. Hoagland received a $400 bond and is eligible in the state-wide competition.

Holden Bixler, sponsored by the Gurnee Post 3899 came in second place. Bixler received a $300 bond. Kathryn Ann Schlichter of Highland Park took third place while Jennifer Pitcher, who was sponsored by Zion and Winthrop Harbor Posts took fourth place. Laura Busse of McHenry Post 4600 won fifth place.

The Voice of Democracy contest is an audio essay program where sophomores, juniors, and seniors are given an opportunity to express their opinions concerning their responsibility to the United States. This year's theme was "My Commitment to America."

Students who entered the contest have an opportunity to win the national first prize of $20,000, a second prize of $15,000, down to 30th prize of $1,000 in scholarships. Hoagland's essay will be judged in the state competition in February and then, hopefully, it will move up to the National competition.

The essays were judged using a point value system. The essays are then reviewed and valued as follows: delivery, 20 points; originality, 40 points; and content 40 points.

Downtown plan amended

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The ordinance to amend and add the Downtown Overlay District was passed at the Antioch Village Board meeting. The Antioch Planning and Zoning Board approved the plan on Oct. 14.

The purpose of the Overlay District is essentially to help maintain an economically viable downtown area in Antioch. The plan provides developmental standards, allows diverse land uses within the area, and fosters new construction and development by allowing for specific deviations from the stricter bulk requirement of the underlying zoning district.

The territory covered by the district borders the Soo Line Railroad Tracks on the east, Park Street on the south, Depot Street on the north, and Toft Avenue on the west.

Included in the plan are exceptions to the permitted uses. Specifically professional corporations licensed by the state such as accountants, lawyers, architects, engineers, and real estate brokers, will be permitted to conduct business in a residential structure used primarily as a home. However, there is a two employee maximum. Furthermore, the residential character of the exterior of the dwelling must not be changed. Medical and dental clinics are not included in the exception.

Another exception to the zoning limitations will be outdoor cafes on private property. This exception is subject to the limitations of the new outdoor cafe ordinance.

Other limitations include minimum lot size, maximum building height (three stories or 35 feet) and sign size. According to the plan, the maximum height of a wall sign shall be the elevation of the roof of a one-story structure, or the second floor of a multi-storied building.

Underwater Team called for false alarm

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch's Underwater Rescue Recovery Team was called to Grass Lake channel on Sunday, Jan. 9, for a possible snowmobile accident only to later discover it was a false alarm.

When the underwater team arrived, they found a snowmobile helmet floating in the water in the channel located at the south end of Lake Marie. Rescue personnel in exposure suits entered the water to locate possible victims and instead found four snowmobiles under the ice.

Not knowing where the drivers of the vehicles were and no witnesses available, it was very difficult to determine whether or not anyone had actually gone into the water. Vehicle registrations were obtained and quickly communicated to the Antioch Police Dispatch Center in order to determine if the riders had been accounted for.

Unfortunately, a registration came back to a business that was closed for the weekend. After spending a considerable amount of time attempting to locate potential victims, eventually a dispatcher reached a relative of the owner of one of the machines. According to the person, the incident had occurred over the New Years weekend and all were safe.

"The Antioch Fire Department and First Fire Protection District of Antioch would like all snowmobilers and other winter vehicle owners to make sure that the vehicle registration is current and is in the name of the owner, not a company," said a fire department spokesman. "The Chain O' Lakes users are very fortunate in having three top notch departments ready and able to help in an emergency. Please let us help you."

Electoral Board. Even more importantly, appeals to the Electoral Board have a tendency to hold up absentee voting and reduce the time candidates have for campaigning.

"Absentee voting begins a lot earlier than folks think. When the challenges have continuances, it holds up absentee voting in that area," explained Vanderventer. "We are not allowed to mail the absentee ballots out until the issue is settled."

Which is why, according to Peters, she has decided not to appeal the ruling.

"Because we do not want to delay the absentee voting process, we will not file an appeal," said Peters. "However, we do hope that the questionable petition of this candidate will be taken into consideration by the voters when they go to the poles in the March primary election."

Peters maintains that there were several other signatures which were also in question. However, she was not able to confirm them in time to include them on the original challenge.

"It is unfortunate that this petition was accepted," said Peters. "Guidelines have been established for all petitions. These guidelines should be followed by any and all of those interested in running for public office."

Peters was disappointed that Domanchuk did not bring to the hearing all the individuals included in the signature challenge. Instead, according to Peters, he brought in only one person.

A handwriting analyst, Frederick Dudink of Winthrop Harbor was brought in to analyze the challenged signatures. However, his conclusions were not accepted by the majority of the Electoral Board.

Kenneth Domanchuk will join Judy Martini and Jim Fields on the March Republican primary ballot for Count Board in Antioch (Dist. 1).

Funding plan sound

Despite some opposition, SEDOL bond program for new center worthy of support and passage.

Not every school district is climbing on the bandwagon for the $3.4 million administration building for the Special Education Dist. of Lake County (SEDOL). Under consideration is a 30,000 square foot facility to be built near Laremont School, Gages Lake. Besides SEDOL business offices, the structure also would house the Parent-Infant Center and a diagnostic center.

SEDOL officials want to take advantage of a new law that went into effect Jan. 1 allowing for the issuance of bonds that would be spread over the entire 37 member district. Allocation of shared costs would be on the assessed valuation of individual school districts. There would be no tax levy and no increase in taxes. Member districts will be left to their own devices to come up with individual assessments, presumably from either the education or building fund. Either is permissible under the statute providing for bond funding.

John Anderson, district superintendent, spent a good part of December lobbying member districts, represented by a governing group made up of one elected board of education member each. The governing group will vote in March whether the building program as presently constituted will go forward.

Anderson closed out 1993 with the knowledge that 23 districts are supporting the building program and method of funding. Anderson also faced the reality that some districts are opposed to SEDOL expansion at Gages Lake and will vote

no. A simple majority is required for passage.

At first hand, it is somewhat surprising that there would be opposition to a plan to advance the work of educating children with special needs. The SEDOL management council, made up of district superintendents, has gone on record endorsing use of bonding authority to fund construction. Aspersions have been cast from the viewpoint that some districts with lower assessed valuations have disproportionately larger enrollments. There also is muted grumbling that the forced contributions will not only be difficult to come by during tight times, but constitute another heavy-handed dictate from a body outside the local district. Call that the lingering mandate opposition syndrome.

SEDOL leaders have planned another information meeting later this month to answer questions and allay fears of the board of governors. This will permit individual school districts to make a decision at February board meetings on how representatives are to vote at the March meeting.

For planning purposes, a $12 billion figure is being used for the assessed valuation of the 37 districts on which the bond issue will be spread. A lot of zeros are involved in the calculations, but the bottom line is that the individual district share will be small, indeed.

There has been no question to date of the value of centralizing SEDOL administration and adding additional facilities at the Gages Lake location. Considering that individual shares will be minimal, the program should be approved in March, even with the acknowledgement that some communities will pay more and be benefitted less.

Letters to the Editor

Form over substance

Editor:

Governor Jim Edgar vetoed SB 240, the "Leaf Burning Bill," on Dec., 23, 1993. Perhaps he hoped that the haze of the holidays would obscure his action. Possibly he thought that asthmatics and emphysema sufferers would be breathing easier now that winter is here and people are thinking snow instead of leaves. Maybe he thought that the people who care about the environment and the health of its inhabitants wouldn't notice that he ignored not only common sense, but also the letters of support from the Lung Association, the Lake County Board, SWALCO (Solid Waste Agency of Lake County), and a former member of the Pollution Control Board to name a few.

This leaf burning bill would ban the burning of landscape waste in populated areas of the state, with exemptions for towns under 1,000, farmers, nursery owners, prairie reclamation, and fire fighter training. It is well documented that burning of leaves releases chemicals that can endanger the lives of asthmatics, those who suffer with heart conditions, emphysema, and other breathing disorders. It also releases known cancer-causing agents. Furthermore, it adds to the "body-burden" of our already polluted air.

One of Edgar's reasons for vetoing was that he would rather support future legislation to authorize the Pollution Control Board (PCB) to set rules governing leaf burning. Section 10 of SB 240 amended current law so that the PCB could adopt regulations banning the burning of landscape waste throughout the state. In other words, the veto took away the power that Edgar said he would support in the future for the PCB.

Call your legislator today and request support of an override of this most disappointing veto.

Fetal baby's nights

Editor:

I would like to clear up confusion created by Robert Westrich of Vernon Hills over fetal baby's rights.

Our system of government and our laws grant us great freedom, more freedom than any other country in the world. The law does not extend into a pregnant woman's womb.

If we were to be foolish enough to pass a fetal rights law we would be taking rights away from the pregnant woman. This is not only un-American but it is against everything freedom stands for. I am certain such a law would not survive a constitutional challenge in our courts.

When it's inside the mother it's called a fetus, the term "baby" does not apply at all. Once a baby is born a birth certificate is issued and the baby is recognized as a citizen of this country and is subject to all the laws of the land.

The case of the pregnant woman who refused a Cesarean delivery was very interesting. All levels of our court system have reaffirmed a person's freedom to refuse any medical procedure they object to or don't want. No doctor, no judge and no jury can force an unwanted medical treatment on anyone.

When we go to the doctor we are not obligated in any way to accept the treatment plan the doctor has chosen for us. While the fetus (and the placenta) are inside the mother they are temporary parts of her body. Up to delivery the mother and father make decisions affecting her and her fetus's health and well being. No one else is involved no matter how well meaning others may think they are.

Either way, taxpayers lose

Editor:

First a summary, Vernon Hills annexes Half Day and announces "ha, ha, we beat you to it, Lincolnshire!" Then Lincolnshire annexes the very same property and announces "ha, ha, we fooled you, Vernon Hills!" And now the battle between these so-called adults will proceed to court.

Of course, neither village is a stranger in that strange land, the peoples' court? Naturally, the taxpayers will once again get stuck with a big bill from the respective, esteemed lawyers.

When Vernon Hills decided it wanted to take territory from one fire district to give it to another it went so far as to rewrite state law, pay about $35,000 to lobby for its passage and spend some $500,000 in legal and other payments to get what it wanted. So, Lincolnshire, better have a lot of cash in the checkbook! If this is any indication, you're going to need it.

Why not set up a meeting with the two villages and the property owners, put on a dog and pony show as to why the owners should come to their village, and let the owners vote on it for themselves, majority rules, you know, like they do in democratic societies like America.

What's that you say, we are in America. Never mind! Guess it will have to be solved in the new American way, court!

Character crisis clouds Washington wonders

by BILL SCHROEDER

There may be better times than this spring to pack up the kids and head for the nation's capitol for a refresher in American history and to smell the cherry blossoms.

What's going on in Washington, D.C., these days isn't fit for the eyes and ears of youngsters, not unless you're a mod, permissive parent who encourages the kiddoes to stay up late for dirty tv movies and clips out all the latest safe sex articles.

Personal conduct at the highest levels of government is following a soap opera script. There's more integrity on display at the neighborhood saloon any day of the week.

Americans, yearning for change, sadly bought into leadership involved with philandering, suicide, deviate life styles, unethical business practices and undermining of tradition and accepted behavior.

The mansion meanderings of President Clinton prompted one national columnist (female gender) to describe the commander in chief as a "hopelessly compulsive philandering cad." Another writer found the chief executive to be betraying his wife and the American people as well. Other commentators insist the power crazed First Lady is getting what she deserves in the way of a soul mate.

Americans, if impulsive and given to violence, also are patient and forgiving. So, as the pundits explain, while adultery may not be an impeachable offense, personal immorality is another matter. Instead of focusing on extra marital affairs, the soothsayers want us to look into whether there has been "abuse of trust."

OK. That brings up the subject of Whitewatergate. Both the President and Hillary are up to their eyeballs in a scheme involving real estate development and a failed savings and loan. Adding mystery and intrigue to Whitewatergate is the death of their trusted personal legal advisor. Why did Vincent Foster blow his brains out?

In a nation where the politicians and press inundate society with one crisis after another, let's be honest. There's no health care crisis. No deficit crisis. No poverty crisis. No foreign affairs crisis. There's only one crisis. The character crisis.

No, folks. If you care about the little ones, keep them away from Washington until the clouds of scandal and shame part. Try the Dells this summer for a fun family trip. Or Springfield and New Salem Park if history is your thing.

WELL CONNECTED---Ed Pigg, the former Waukegan auto dealer and civic leader now involved with commercial real estate sales in the Libertyville-Mundelein area, admits he's a piker for local information compared to his boss, Jack Forney. "Jack knows everybody and he also knows who owns every business parcel and who used to own the land," remarked Pigg with admiration. Forney, 81, has been a fixture in the Lake County business community since the late 1940's when he served as personnel manager of the Frank G. Hough Co., maker of the famous Payloaders.

Crane, Grinnell spur reelection campaigns

Two high profile contested Republican primary races have taken definitive directions.

At the opening of his reelection headquarters in Wildwood, Sheriff Clinton Grinnell introduced the new under sheriff, Gary Del Re, 44, Buffalo Grove police commander who has been heading the sheriff department's major crimes task force as a corollary assignment.

Congressman Phil Crane held a press conference to announce his endorsement by six prominent Illinois state legislators, effectively wiping away any question where Republican leaders stand on the veteran GOP lawmaker's bid for another term.

At a gathering Tuesday morning in Palatine, State Sen. Bill Peterson (R-Long Grove), State Rep. Terry Parke, (R-Hoffman Estates), State Rep. Al Salvi (R-Wauconda) and State Rep. Kay Wojcik announced their support. Unable to attend but sending written endorsements were State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) and State Rep. Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa).

Del Re will report for duty Feb. 7. He replaces Willie Smith, who will return to a command post with rank of captain. Until Smith stepped down, Grinnell had been taking heat as "rigging" his reelection as a stepping stone for Smith to become sheriff when the popular office holder retired before the end of his term. Grinnell also has dispelled doubts about the future by promising to serve out his full term.

By holding a press conference in an opponent's home town, Crane sent a strong message that he is conducting a hard-driving campaign. Palatine is home base for Gary Skoien, one of three other GOP hopefuls out to dislodge one of the most ardent conservative voices in Washington.

Geo-Karis said Crane's experience is needed to deal with the Clinton White House and the Democratic Congress. Churchill called Crane a "perfect match" for the 8th Congressional Dist.

Tax release---Skoien also chose Tuesday to hold a press conference, an event on the Courthouse steps in

Party Lines

Waukegan, where he handed out copies of his 1992 income tax return and urged Crane and another GOP candidate, State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald, to make their income tax returns public. Told about Skoien's challenge, Crane replied, "My personal finances already are public knowledge."

Water bill sponsor---State Sen. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake) reportedly will get the call to introduce legislation to extend the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Water Management Agency, which is due to go out of business Dec. 31. This is in keeping with the tradition that the non-tax supported agency is "fathered" by a McHenry County legislator.

Klemm was elected by the same constituency that was served ably for many years by former State Sen. Jack Schaffer, also a resident of Crystal Lake, who conceived the agency and pushed enabling legislation through the General Assembly 10 years ago. Lake County legislators are expected to team with Klemm to get support for the agency throughout the state.

State Sen. Bill Peterson underscored the need for voters in agency territory to approve an advisory referendum March 15. Without public support, the local legislative delegation will have a tough time "selling" the agency downstate.

Starting over--- Although Kildeer President Barbara Schwieter said she looked "forward to starting anew with the village trustees," she was treated to more of the same at the first meeting of the year Jan. 3, where Trustee Todd Swim resigned as finance chairman in protest over her appointing Trustee William Pailey Jr. as budget officer at the board's November meeting. A motion was finally made to call a committee meeting to discuss the budget. "Do we need a motion to call a committee meeting?" Schwieter asked, to which Trustee Terry Albert replied: "It might be easier at this point."

'Different candidate'---Depending on your viewpoint, Tom Lachner has a lot or a little going in a campaign to succeed long-time State Rep. Virginia Fiester Frederick.

If you like a non-lawyer who is familiar with school issues and does his homework on public issues, the Lake Bluff businessman rates consideration. If you like a political insider with a record of long-service to the party, then the nod goes to Mary Beattie of Lake Forest.

Lachner got involved in the public sector when elected to the Lake Bluff elementary school board of education. The Beattie vs. Lachner battle gives promise of being a bell ringer in the March Republican primary.

Health board elections---The Lake County Health Board has re-elected Martin Paulson as president for 1994. Paulson, a Republican county board candidate, is the manager of Parkway Restaurant in Waukegan. Also appointed to the board John Schullen, a dentist; Jean Veiga, a nurse; and Tien Cheng, a doctor who is board certified in cardiology and internal medicine.

Good influence---New plan commission member George E. Hayden of Mundelein got a little friendly pressure to serve from a neighbor of his---Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles. A good administrator takes advantage of talents, and Hayden has a degree in planning. ... Makes sense.

Top builders predict a banner year for 1994

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

A Gurnee and a Libertyville developer are winners of this year's Builder of the Year honors by the Home Builders Association of Lake County (HBALC).

Dan Riedel, president of American Tradesman, Inc. of Gurnee and Ron Fleckman, who heads Cyrus Development Inc. are the first to be chosen dual winners of the award.

Riedel and Fleckman were honored for their work which led to the Marvel House in a Day home in Grayslake. The sale of the home resulted in a $35,000 donation to the Riverside Foundation, a charitable organization which serves adults with developmental disabilities. Also, $2,500 was donated to the Adam Walsh Foundation for Children.

"Just the tremendous amount of exposure for the building industry and coordinating 300 people to build a house in one day was outstanding," Fleckman said.

Fleckman heard about similar efforts in Florida and San Diego and never doubted the project's future. A family now lives in the Grayslake home, which sold for about $170,000. Only a small paint job was needed after the huge effort.

Riedel and Fleckman have been involved in construction for many years and see it as a booming industry.

"We see it (the housing market) as exceptional. Interest rates are stabilizing and there is a lot more amount of consumer confidence," Fleckman said.

Fleckman's The Cyrus group is planning a development of single-family homes near the under-construction Gurnee golf course.

Fleckman, a psychology graduate from the University of Colorado, had his first construction project in Long Grove.

Riedel had a different start. "I started out as a plumber in 1972," Riedel recalled. "Esper Petersen and I built Delany Square Plaza in Gurnee in 1981. It was the scariest thing because we did not have any tenants."

Delany Square is now 100 percent full and Riedel is working with Fleckman on such projects as House in a Day. However, He does not expect another such project to be built "for a couple of years." American Tradesman's first residential product was Crescent Meadows in east Gurnee, followed by the Boulders and single family custom and semi-custom homes at The Woods and Woodside Park in a former nursery now part of Grand-Hunt corridor. In fact, the company has just moved its offices to a Victorian Home in Stonebrook of Gurnee.

Fleckman is vice president of Cyrus Development Group, the developers of Libertyville's Nickels and Dimes. The community was named Luxury Home Development of the Year in 1992. Cyrus Development is affiliated with Cyrus Realtors. Fleckman is HBALC vice president for 1994 and joined the board of directors in 1992 as vice chairman of the public relations committee.

Riedel, immediate past president of HBALC, also believes 1994 will be a strong year.

"We feel there is a lot of momentum from last year in Lake and McHenry counties. The Home Builders Association is growing with a lot of enthusiasm. All indications are the job market is good and the unemployment rate is low. President Clinton let loose more lumber in the northwest which will help rising lumber costs," Riedel said.

Keeping Great Lakes Naval Training Center and Baxter are two of Lake County's plusses, he said.

Impact fees in certain Lake County towns can add an additional $5,000 to $8,000 to the home's cost. Riedel cautioned the developers can only pass along that cost to consumers for so long. "They have to be kept in perspective," he said.

Riedel, a Warren Township High,

College of Lake County and Arizona State University graduate, has served on the program, legislative and other committees for the builders' group.

"Gurnee has a good mix of all types of housing - from $100,000 to $400,000 at the Woods to townhomes for empty nesters at Victorian Village," he said.

Among other awards presented at the association's annual dinner: George Wruck of Sears Contract Sales was named associate of the year for his many contributions to home building industry. Jean Zoller, president of the Concept Group, was named most valuable player.

County business-education partnership receives kudos

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County Business Industry Education Consortium has received official recognition for their efforts in practical education.

The association will be honored at the Third Annual Illinois Council on Business-Education Partnerships conference to be held Jan. 24 and 25 in Chicago. The BIEC will be showcased at the conference and Governor Jim Edgar has been invited to present the award.

The organization also received a letter of congratulation from State Superintendent of Education Robert Leininger, in which he recognized the BIEC as an exemplary partnership.

"It took 11 years for us to get to where we are today," said BIEC executive director Jerry Gudauskas. "We started the organization in 1982 and developed as a business/education partnership."

"The bottom line is that schools are educational factories producing human resources for business and industry. We provide the liaison bringing business and education together."

The BIEC's contribution involves not only the education of students but helping teachers improve their knowledge as well.

Members who attend the ceremony will present an informative lecture on how the association was started, the pitfalls they encountered, and what they have learned.

Allstate, AT&T offer investments

Investment Trends

by Noah A. Seidenberg

Investment representative

Allstate (ALL-NYSE)—This large, well known insurer was wholly owned until recently by Sears. In June of 1994, Sears started to divest itself of its non-retail businesses, this allowed the public to take partial ownership of the U. S.'s second largest property and casualty insurer. While historically Allstate has been mainly writing homeowners and auto insurance, it has made a push in the more profitable areas of life insurance and mortgage insurance.

Although Allstate received plenty of bad publicity from the Hurricane Andrew disaster, its stock comes well recommended. With a relatively low P/E ratio of 14.1 and a 2.4 percent yield, the stock is currently attractive for those seeking growth and income in their investments. Institutions currently hold 95 percent of the stock which should provide added stability for the price of the stock.

With the hurricane disaster behind them and projected 12 percent annual revenue growth, all certainly should be looked at.

AT&T (T-NYSE)—"Telephone" as it is sometimes called, is the granddaddy of the phone companies. Unlike many other large companies that had rested on their laurels, T has been striving to expand and be on the cutting edge of new technological advances. As interactive TV, video telephones, and cable-phone mergers are more the norm, T is well positioned to take advantage of these innovations.

Currently, putting out a 2.4 percent dividend, AT&T is seen as a strong buy, especially considering its recent price weakness. With a range for 1993 of $50 1/8-$65, T looks very good at the current level of around $53.

Buy AT&T for its yield, diversification, and estimated earnings growth of 10 percent annually.

Mariko Ventura-Flood combines sculpture and drama to express universal truths.

Artist finds cultural expression

It's the starkness that first attracts you. A slim oriental woman dressed in black eases out from between two broad, tall white panels onto a bare stage. Her pale face, framed in long, coarse black hair, suggests anguish, perhaps pain. She kneels before a large sheet of art paper covered with characters from the Japanese language. Just in front of her is a large clay bowl into which she dips cupped hands, bringing out a mound of ash. Stiff-armed, the woman raises the ash above her head, as if in divine appeal. Then, lowering her hands, she lets the ash stream onto clay objects aligned before her—a cylinder, a ball, a pyramid.

The objects are symbols; the cylinder for her father, the ball for her mother, and the pyramid for the fire of war that brought them together and gave her life.

She finally speaks, part explanation, part homage, part lament.

"The Holocaust and the atomic bomb shaped my parents' lives and mine," she says. "The story is one of life and death. The story begins before I was born."

The presentation last year by former Lake Villa resident Mariko Ventura-Flood in Northwestern University's dramatic series "From the Border" addressed the program's overall theme of multi-cultural heritage and its influence upon ethnic Americans. But she also was taking yet another step on a path that in six years has led her towards understanding someone she is eager to know: Herself. "The key lies in my art," she explained. "For years I've known a restlessness. Art is the only way I now know how to make sense of it."

Born to an American soldier and a Japanese mother in the occupied Japan of the late 1940's, Ventura-Flood believes herself influenced by the father's Jewish culture and the mother's Oriental heritage, an affinity nearly lost in the family's emigration to the United States when she was 3. During those post-war years, the artist remembers the cultural barriers and the haste with which she had to set aside all things Japanese - clothes, mannerisms, language. The adoption diminished memories and feelings that only now she is recovering. And there is also the ambiguous, yet indelible, mark, the artist said, of "the great tragedies" of that war, the Holocaust and the U.S. atomic bomb explosions at Hiroshima and Nagasaki that ended World War II: War united the two people who gave her life, yet also gave both parents a sad memory and the world a wrenching inheritance.

It is through her work that she tries reconciling herself to such mystery and irony. At first with pottery, then with small sculpture, and during the last two years through that mix of drama and display art portrayed in "From the Border," she has offered different glimpses of "the truth," as that truth has appeared to her.

The work began in 1987, she explained. She had enrolled in a pottery class at the College of Lake County after returning to school to earn her associate's degree in English.

"I remember shaping that first piece of clay," Ventura-Flood recalled. "The clay on the spinning pedestal, going round and round in my hands. I felt assurance, control, confidence. A simple tea bowl...."

Within nine months, the artist was competing in her first art show, the Deer Path (Ill.) Art Festival. A late entry and with only her earliest work to display, she earned a top prize. Since then she has earned much recognition with the artistic community and the public. Awards include the Award of Excellence at the 1992 Deer Path Fall Festival and the Best of Show Award at the 1991 Open Spectrum of the David Adler Cultural Center. Marylynn McLaughlin of Chicago's Community Arts Council, Inc., calls Ventura-Flood's sculpture "powerful."

But she remembers that first award as the one that made the difference.

"I knew then," she said, "there was no other way for me."

Such an ambition has come at a price. At 44, the artist now lives on her own after 23 years of marriage. Old friends keep giving way to new ones, she said, and yesterday's feelings still flicker, sometimes painfully. And there is sometimes fear: of failure, of artistic desire without inspiration, of being alone.

But she finds wanted reassurance in the simplicity and strength of Haiku, a Japanese poetry rich in imagery, allusion, and spirit. Terse and poignant, Haiku reminds her of how other artists have looked upon life as she does, with amazement, deference, wonder, and curiosity.

"I guess the need for such intimacy will never end," she said.

Mariko Ventura-Flood, now a fine arts student at Northwestern University's University College, serves as a consultant for Art Independent Gallery in Lake Geneva, Wis., and for Cuneo Museum and Gardens in Libertyville. She participated last year in Victory Memorial Hospital's Feminine Forum. She will lecture and present her sculpture at an Asian literary festival April 21 at the College of Lake County in Grayslake. Ventura-Flood will serve as artistic director to the sensory of drama "With Beer," scheduled in April at the Goose Island Brewery in Chicago. For more information, call (708) 869-3826.

Kidsworks presents Fishermen, Fables and Frogs on Jan. 22

Kidsworks Touring Theatre Company will present "Fishermen, Fables & Frogs: the best of Aesop, Andersen and Grimm" on Saturday, Jan. 22 from 10:30- 11:15 a.m. at the Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Road, Lake Forest.

Geared to children in kindergarten through third-grade, this live theatre performance focuses on the story of Phyllis, who hates to read until she opens a book and a character tumbles out. The character shows Phyllis what a little imagination can do to bring a story to life. Parents are encouraged to have their children read "The Fisherman and His Wife" by the Brothers Grimm and to discuss fables, fairytales and folktales before the performance.

Tickets are currently on sale for $5 a piece at the Gorton office. For further information, call 234-6060 between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

Free toy given at museum show

Admission is $4 per person, and reservations are necessary, due to limited seating. If the weather is bad, visitors should call ahead.

The non-profit museum is located at 533 Milwaukee Avenue, Burlington, Wis., at the same address as Teacher Place and Parent Resources.

The show also includes a demonstration of the tops used in the upcoming MGM release called "It Runs in the Family." Top collector, Judith Schulz, worked on the movie last summer. Call (414) 763-3946 and 728-5623 for information.

Dog sledding in Alaska
by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Seeing the many snowmobiles, brought out by the storm last week, got me thinking about the dog sled trip I took in Alaska about this same time of the year.

Not that there is much of a comparison of a snowmobile to a dog sled. That would be like comparing fast, noisy power boats to the quietness and natural feeling of sailing (Bet you couldn't guess I have a sailboat). Anyhow, I got somewhat the same feeling in a dog sled.

Dog sled tours are not limited to the rough, arctic adventurer types. In fact, dog sledding is almost a lazy man's way of travel. All you do is settle down into a comfortable, padded sled, wrap yourself in comfortable blankets and enjoy Alaska's unmatched scenery while your driver and dogs do the rest.

And what scenery it is! Gliding along in almost complete silence, you are surrounded by majestic white mountains, ancient blue glaciers, and wildlife everywhere!

Some tours include the opportunity to strap on snowshoes and do a little more wilderness exploring.

Your seasoned guide will fill you with Alaska's long, and exciting history as well as fresh baked sourdough sandwiches and cinnamon rolls.

If you just want a taste of dog sledding, tours of as little as 30 minutes are available. For the real dog sled experience, though, I'd suggest a two night trip into McKinley Park where you'll see Alaska's most exciting country and spend the night in a real backwoods lodge.

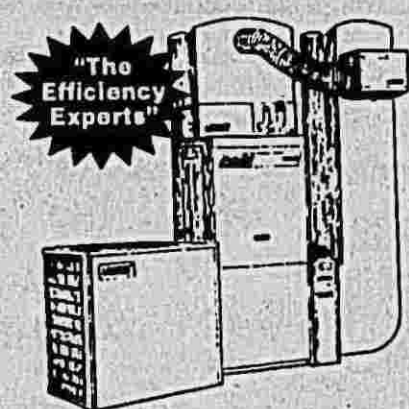

A word to animal lovers. Anyone who knows me is aware of my concern for animals. The dogs used for these teams not only are better fed than the average pet, but in a lot of cases get more attention and love. There are no bits or any other device used to drive the dogs. You will never hear the crack of a whip. The dogs run because they enjoy it!

R Wheel World

'Pelican' soars with intrigue

When you take two of today's top stars and put them in a picture based on a best-selling book by one of today's best-known authors, a hit is just about guaranteed. 'Taint necessarily so!

Julia Roberts returns to the screen after a year's absence in John Grisham's successful spy adventure, "The Pelican Brief." Denzel Washington, who lends a little class and a lot of talent to any movie, joins Roberts in trying to stop the assassination of members of the Supreme Court. He plays a Washington reporter.

Both Roberts and Washington are a joy to watch on the big screen but the story concerning a young law student discovering secret plans to kill Supreme Court judges, and their efforts to stop the carnage, is overlaid with chases, jumping in and out of cars, all shot in the capitol itself.

We're getting pretty tired of movies that portray our chief executives as well-meaning fools and here we have another one. Robert Culp, who does his impression of Ronald Reagan or George Bush as the mood moves him, is the resident of the White House who spends most of his time playing with his dog.

Tony Goldwyn is back and again type cast as a slimy chief of staff who's really taking care of the chief executive's business while he's pet hopping.

The Future

Sam Lilly, founder of the Learning Resources Institute, will present "The Future Ain't What It Used To Be," at a monthly dinner meeting of the National Network of Sales Professionals (NNSP). The meeting will be held on Monday, Jan. 17 at 6 p.m. at the Wellington of Arlington, 2121 S. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights. Reservations can be made by calling 253-2661 and must be made by 3 p.m., Friday, Jan. 14. The cost of the dinner is: $26 for non-members, $20 for NNSP members and $28 for walk-ins.

Young Single Parents

For parents who are single, divorced or widowed, between the ages of 21 to 60, join Young Single Parents Club every Tuesday at the Uptown Ballroom, 6218 22nd Ave., Kenosha, Wis. from 8 to 11 p.m. for dancing and socialization. For more information call Buzz at (414)652-1677.

Denzel Washington and Julia Roberts

This movie translation is slightly more suspenseful than the screen version of Grisham's other big novel, "The Firm," but it lacks the secret thing that would make it better than the average spy thriller. Maybe it's because the powers that be chose to keep Roberts' and Washington's relationship on a platonic level - excluding the love interest that most movie goers relish. Maybe it's because there are large segments of this adventure that we cared little about.

"Pelican" is not great, it's just a good adventure flick with very pretty people dancing across the screen, which will be enough for many fans. We give it three out of five stars. It's rated PG-13 because of several violent episodes and the use of heavy language.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Premier dining at the Parkway

Parkway Restaurant has been the premier place to dine in the north suburban area for almost 50 years.

Located on Rte. 120 just east of Rte. 41, it was always the place local politicians chose to meet for lunch, says owner Peter Paulson, who currently runs the family business with his wife Jane.

"A lot of business deals have been consummated at the Parkway," he said.

The restaurant is known for their braised lamb shanks at $11.95 and the ever-popular filet mignon priced at $15.95.

"Our menu is basically All-American," said Paulson. "We're noted for our great beef prime rib and we have an extensive seafood section."

Fridays are extra-special at the Parkway. Chef Baker prepares his award-winning clam chowder and diners can choose from a number of tempting seafood entrees such as Shrimp de Jonghe priced at $15.95 or Lake Superior Whitefish at $12.95. Oyster lovers will revel in baked Oysters Lorenzo, a creation featuring fresh oysters topped with a creamy mushroom sauce with crabmeat, then broiled to a golden brown with a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese, all for $12.95.

Friday is also the day when Mrs. Paulson Sr. bakes a few extra lemon meringue pies to complement the Parkway's specials.

Other entree selections include Rack of Lamb with Madeira Sauce, Crispy Roast Duck, Fresh Walleye Pike, Fresh Atlantic
Salmon and Yellow Fin Tuna.

The dining room opens at noon on Sundays for those who enjoy an old-fashioned Sunday dinner in a relaxed atmosphere. Pot roast with potato pancakes is a favorite choice.

The Parkway has always been a popular place for private parties in one of the three dining rooms. The Rosewood, decorated in rich paneling with mauve accents, seats 90. The Executive Dining Room is furnished with a private bar for up to 50 diners.
Smaller rooms are also available for wedding rehearsal dinners or family events.

Close to the Lake County Courthouse at 3035 Belvidere St.,
the Parkway is easily accessible from any direction.

Newer residents from western Lake County are encouraged to discover the warm and friendly atmosphere of this family-run business.

"If you haven't found the Parkway," says Paulson, "you really deserve to find out why it's been there for 50 years."

Lunchtime hours are Tuesday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Dinner is served Monday through Saturday from 4 to 9 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 9 p.m.

The house specialty sandwiches are out-of-this world. Jerry's special sandwich includes crabmeat piled on an English muffin, topped with cheddar cheese and hollandaise sauce. The grilled chicken sandwich can be made to order: BBQ, lemon pepper, or Cajun style, served on a toasted bun. The London broil offers thin sliced marinated flank steak served open face with a special sauce.

The express lunch buffet at Jerry's is new. For $4.95 check out the beautiful buffet with a number of entrees to choose from. The express lunch is served between 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Dinner at Jerry's is culinary odyssey. From the broiler, try the Steak Diane, filet mignon, New York strip, BBQ ribs, lamb chops, pork chops, London broil, or the butt steak. On Friday and Saturday nights the roast prime rib of beef is excellent.

From the lakes and sea, Jerry's offers orange roughy, walleye pike, scampi, sea scallops, gulf shrimp, surf and turf, or the cold water rock lobster tail. Shrimp lovers must try the shrimp De Jonghe, which is baked shrimp in a mixture of garlic, wine, herbs, and bread crumbs. And, every Friday is the all-you-can-eat fish fry.

Veal and Poultry specialties are also on the dinner menu at Jerry's. Medallions of veal piccata, sautéed with garlic, lemon and capers is delicious. Pasta lovers are not overlooked at Jerry's. ## Home of the Month

Admiral Mack Gaston and his wife, Lillian relax in the formal living room of "Quarters AA" at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

Gene Gabry

Quarters 'AA' pass Admiral's inspection

Imagine waking up in your very own seven-bedroom mansion, on a bluff overlooking Lake Michigan. Continue to imagine that your daily morning breakfast is served to you by an Admiral in the Navy. Imagine further, that this particular Admiral wakes up extra early and has personally prepared for you a cheese omelet, assorted sliced fruits and fresh baked banana bread.

If you are Lillian Gaston, wife of Admiral Mack Gaston, commander of the world's largest Naval Training Center, this happens every day and is no dream. "I'm so lucky," exclaims Mrs. Gaston. "I get breakfast in bed every day; Mack takes such good care of me."

The Admiral and Mrs. Gaston are the current occupants of "Quarters AA" at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes. The traditional Commandant's quarters are reserved as the personal residence of the center commander for the length of his tour and will be passed on to the next commander.

Admiral Gaston is responsible for Great Lakes NTC mission as a basic and advance training facility for Naval personnel. In 1993, Great Lakes was designated to be the only basic training facility for the Navy, training approximately 60,000 recruits per year. Great Lakes also contains some of the world's most sophisticated training simulators and training facilities available to the military.

Quarters AA was built in 1909 and officially dedicated along with the rest of the base in 1911. It was built as part of a four-house package that had a building expense of $12,366.67 per house, which was considered excessive for the time. The houses were built as quarters for the Commander and his junior officers, who were assigned to operate the naval training facility.

Quarters AA, as well as the other original buildings, were designed by Jarvis Hunt. Hunt was a prominent Chicago architect in his day, earning a solid reputation for eclectic designing; combining several styles and historical motifs in his designs.

Hunt's choice for his home, on what is commonly called "Brick Row" is that of an Italian villa with a renaissance style that incorporates subtle nautical themes. "We just love it here; this home is a pleasure to live in," said Admiral Gaston. "Lillian and I never thought we would have an opportunity to live in a home as elegant as this."

Situated in the center of "Brick Row," containing the 13 homes all built of the identical red brick, Quarters AA is built in "common bond style;" five rows of brick set horizontally and one row set on end. The windows are capped with either rounded or jack arches and row of header bricks defines the basement and ground floors.

The Commandant's house was originally built with open, airy porches on both ends of the building. These have subsequently been closed and converted into sun porches. The home has two kitchens, two fireplaces, a banquet dining room, a library and a spacious living room all on the first floor. "Mack uses the second kitchen to do his cooking in," said Mrs. Gaston.

The second floor is accessed through a wide carpeted stair case that passes a large, two story arched window. This window overlooks the lake shore yard which has a large patio and water fountain in the center and has an unparalleled view of the lake.

The second floor has seven bedrooms and five baths. The bedroom at the north end of the second floor has been converted into "Sonja's" room. "Our daughter Sonja is a graduate student at Old Dominion University and this is her room when she visits," said Mrs. Gaston. "She visited us for several weeks over the holidays."

The home has hardwood floors throughout with a smattering of laid carpet and throw rugs to accent a room. Some of the furniture is permanent to the house while most residents accent the rooms with their own personal touches. The Gaston's personal collection of traditional furniture blends nicely with pieces that date back to the completion of the house.

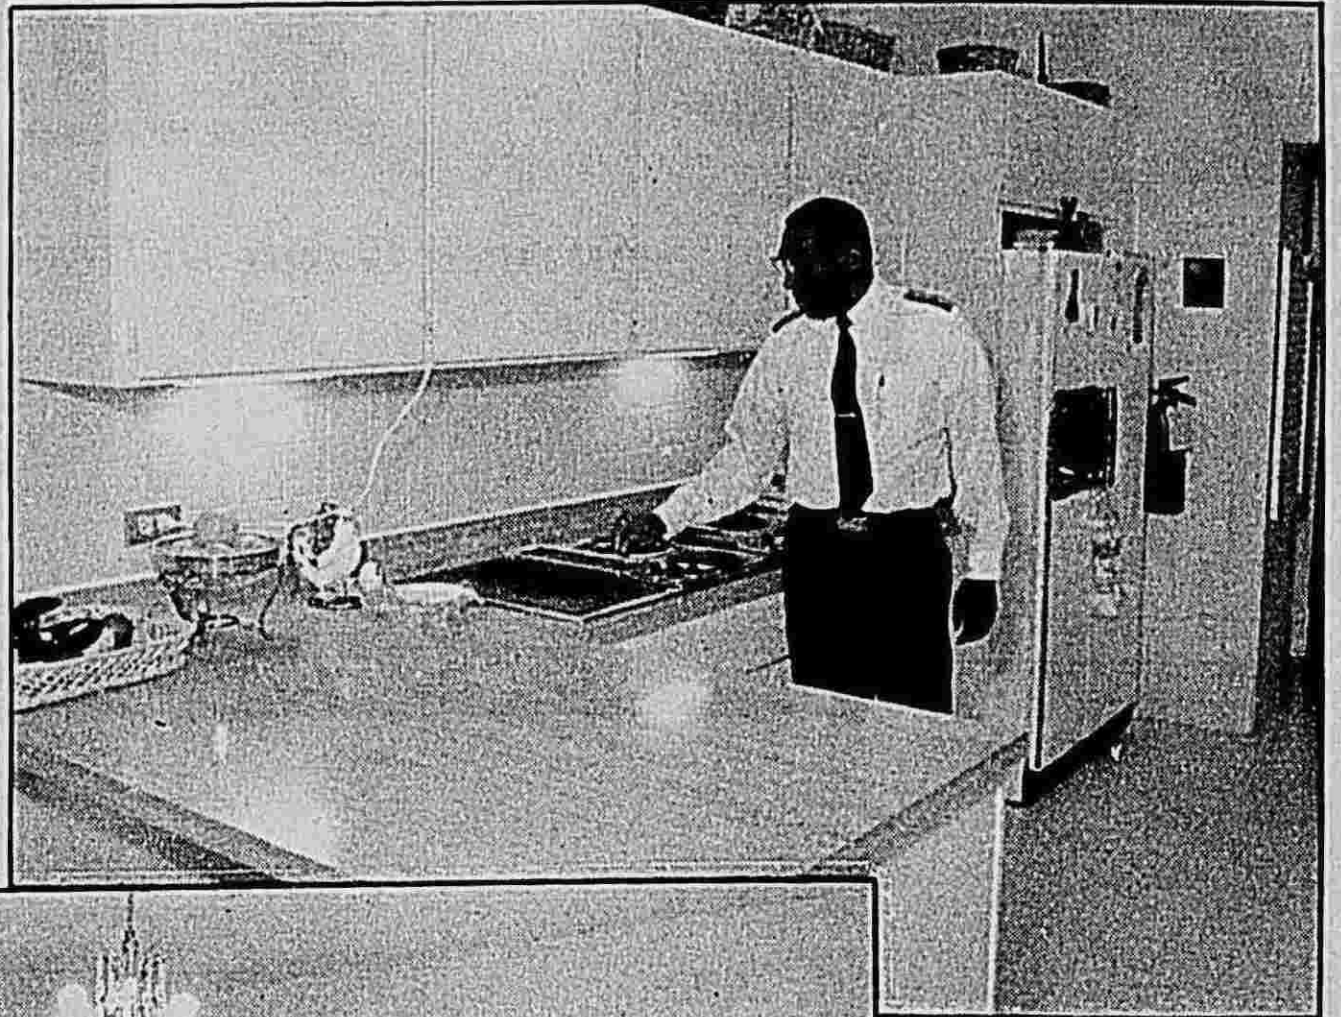

"We've had our bedroom set for 25 years and we still love it," said Mrs. Gaston. "Our dining room set is well over a 100 years old."

The two story, 10,000 square foot residence has a dual purpose; it is not only the personal residence of the Admiral and

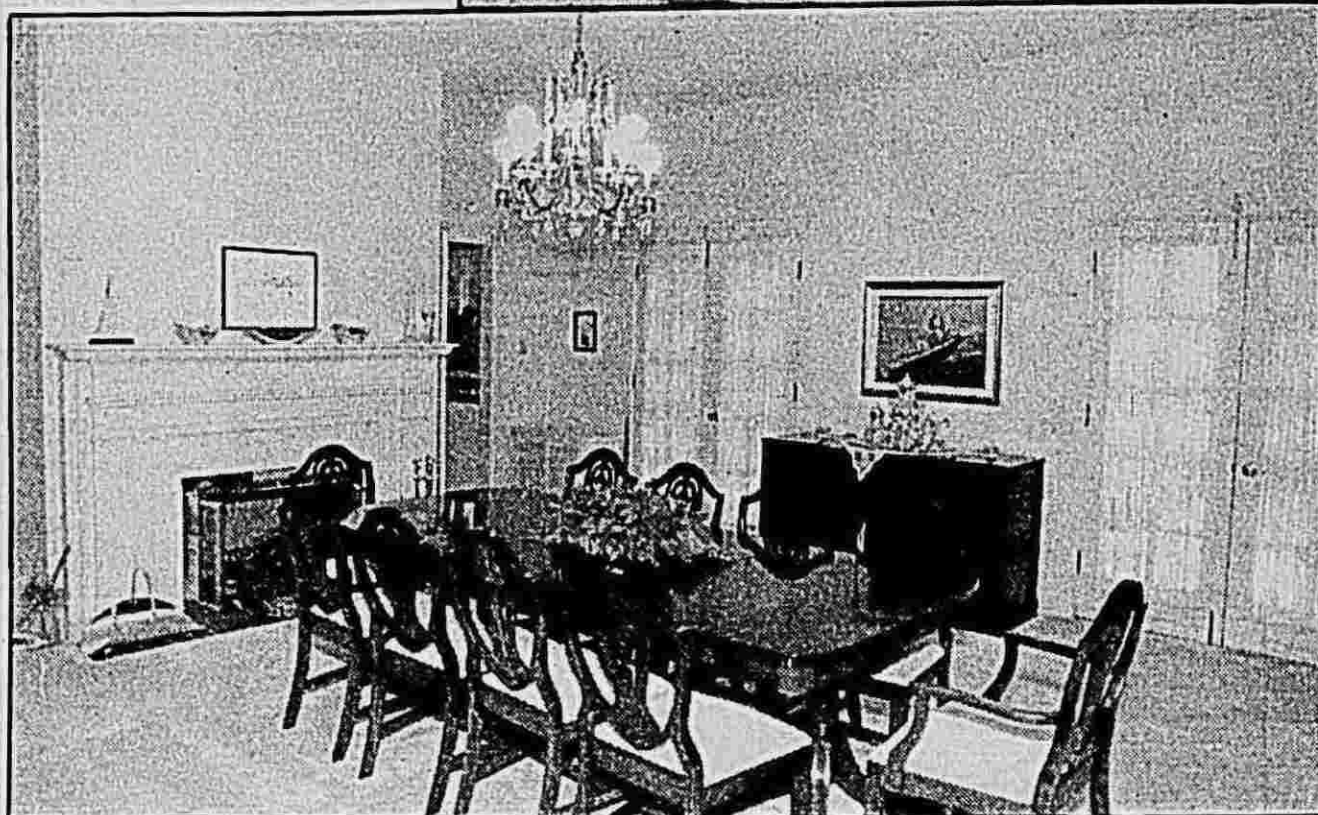

Mrs. Gaston but must function in the roll of entertaining visiting dignitaries and honored guests of the Admiral. "This house was built for entertaining," said the Admiral.

Although the Gastons receive no reimbursement for any of their entertainment expenses, they try to entertain at least monthly. "We both work together to prepare for a party," said the Admiral. "I will prepare the Cornish hens and Lillian makes the best Jambalaya I've ever tasted."

The house was originally built with servants and house keepers quarters. (Cont'd on page 3b)

The Admiral practices his culinary talents creating gourmet breakfasts. The second kitchen has been designated the only kitchen he can hang his apron! Dignitaries and honored guests may sample the Admiral's fine creations in the Navy dining room.

Admiral Gaston has been the commanding officer aboard several ships including frigates and guided missile cruisers. He has had tours of duty at Pearl harbor, Phoenix, and at the Pentagon in Washington D.C. prior to coming to Great Lakes. Mack and Lillian Gaston are natives of Dalton, Georgia. "We've known each other since we were kids, and have been married for 28 years," smiled the Admiral. "We were both lucky enough to marry our childhood sweetheart."

Suites combine modern amenities with old-fashioned luxury

Glamour girls in elegant 1930's movies slept in huge Art Deco suites complete with private baths and elegant sitting areas. Hollywood's idea of space and luxury combined with several practical amenities results in today's master suite, a combination of a sleeping area, private bath, separate sitting area, and lots of windows and closets, including at least one walk-in closet.

"Master bedroom suites at all our communities have volume ceilings, lots of windows for brightness, and loads of hanging space in oversize closets," said William A. Maybrook, executive vice president of sales and marketing for Concord Homes. "Many also offer separate dressing areas between the bedroom and the bath, while others have window seats." Typically, master suites have dressing areas so one person can shower and dress in the morning without waking the other.

"We also have included plant shelves in both the bedrooms and baths to add visual interest and make the rooms more elegant," added Maybrook. "And most of the master baths have their own linen closets for convenience."

At Concord Oaks, a community of 503 single-family homes now in pre-construction sales in Gurnee, major suites feature compartmentalized baths. Master baths also have double sinks to make mornings easier in families where both adults work, said Maybrook.

According to Maybrook, master suites always are separated from the secondary bedrooms for privacy.

"More and more, people are using their bedrooms as a place to retreat," said Maybrook. "Perhaps they want to read a book or relax before going to bed. The master bedroom being apart from the others affords more solitude and quiet."

Not only does Concord pay special attention to master bedrooms in its single-family homes, but in its townhomes, as well, said Maybrook.

"While our townhomes have smaller square footage than our single-family homes, we apply the same design principles," said Maybrook.

For example, a great deal of thought has gone into window design so more than adequate room is available for appropriate placement.

"Windowscaping really gives the master suites an upscale look and feel," said Maybrook. "But we position the windows in such a way as to leave ample wall space for king-size beds. After all, the rooms must also be functional."

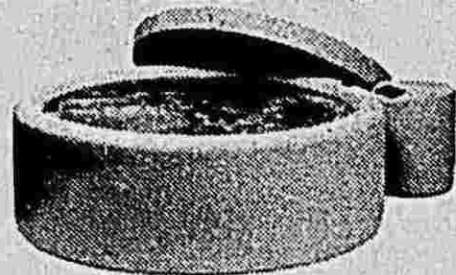

Prime example of Concord Homes' master suite designs. Master bedrooms in all of Concord's communities feature volume ceilings, several windows for brightness, and oversize closets.

To empty-nesters, space is issue of quality, not volume

A large kitchen with plenty of cabinet space and a breakfast room like this one modeled at The Park Claridge, a luxury condominium building in Highland Park, are design "musts" for adult buyers.

The space race for the typical empty-nester couple is more a matter of quality than quantity.

"In most instances couples who have completed their child-rearing responsibilities want a home suited to adult needs. Very often this means a smaller, maintenance-free home designed to accommodate a lifetime of treasured accumulations. This can range from fine furniture to art collections, and, especially, plenty of closet space," observes Frieda Saperstein, director of sales at The Park Claridge in Highland Park.

"Most of our owners have moved from large suburban homes and they bring with them many prized possessions. A typical floor plan arranges rooms that are large enough to hold furniture and furnishings that the buyers treasure, from large pieces of furniture to a favorite desk, dining set or grandfather's clock.

"Since many have collections of artwork or family portraits, it also means there is a need for a lot of wall space. That need can be resolved easily with nine-foot-high ceilings," continued Saperstein.

But the one dimension of space that seems to surpass all others in the minds and hearts of empty-nester shoppers is lots of closet space.

"Most come out of older homes where closets were given short shrift because most people had smaller wardrobes. When the kids leave home they maneuver their own growing wardrobes into various closets around the house. Once they decide to move, adequate closet space becomes a very high priority, however mundane that may sound," said Saperstein. "They want space for their wardrobes, golf clubs and so on."

Budget-wise tips to create a decorator look

These new tips from decorating special-ists make it easy to use imagination instead of money to create the home of our dreams—without changing the furniture or making a dent in the family budget.

• Walls with a difference—A little paint, fabric and imagination can add an exciting designer touch to a room for very little money. Try do-it-yourself stencils above doors, along the ceiling border and around window frames. Ordinary bed sheets provide an elegant tented look. Choose stripes or small floral printed flat sheets, and make a one-inch hem at both ends. Install curtain rods along the top and bottom of each wall, then slide the sheets along the rods carefully to create a shirred effect. This is a great way to disguise damaged walls or dress up a bedroom or bath.

• Artwork adds style—Give any room an instant facelift by showcasing an affordable art collection, using art that matches your decorating theme. For a contemporary room, choose bright images.

If country is your preference, try landscapes, floral prints, or work by artists such as Charles Wysocki or Currier & Ives. Botanical prints give a fresh, natural feeling to any room. In the den, create a casual look with colorful sporting prints, equestrian or hunt scenes.

You can collect prints

by a single artist, by style or subject—or you can mix and match to create your own personal style.

• Raising the roof—Use artwork to change the dimensions of a room.

If ceilings are low, hang pictures above eye level to create a feeling of height. For high ceilings, display pictures lower on the wall. In a long, narrow hallway, use lots of different sized prints hung at a variety of levels to break up the space.

Keep proportions in mind; try not to overpower a small room, such as a bathroom or guest bedroom, with oversized prints. Instead, try a group of smaller pieces with similar styles and frame and mat colors.

• Pretty as a picture—When hanging pictures, use your head before you use your hammer.

Group several small prints in a similar style over the sofa, instead of one large piece. Vary sizes and shapes, and don't hang everything in a straight line.

To find the perfect spot for each work of art, cut a sheet of paper approximately the size of each picture you want to hang. Put a small piece of double-sided tape on the back and use these models to work out perfect wall placement.

• Magic make-overs—The secret to changing the style and feeling of a room without refurnishing is using inexpensive accessories.

Decide on a style, then follow these basic rules. First select a "signature shade"—the color of the sofa, rug or other furniture—then add accessories in coordinating shades. Accessories include framed prints and artwork, throw pillows, vases, baskets and figurines that help set the style.

Building inspections ensure quality control

Many homeowners entering a residential project assume that the quality of construction will be monitored and controlled by their local building department during their inspections. This assumption is only partially true.

First, let's discuss some background issues you should know. Building departments are established around the concept of public safety. This includes structural design to protect from collapse or unstable buildings; plumbing installation for health and sanitation; and electrical and heating systems for safety. The rules that govern these specifics of public safety are building codes.

Building codes do not cover many facets of residential construction, especially the choice or workmanship of finish materials. The following is a typical list of inspections made by local building departments. The exact type will vary from town to town:

- Excavation and formwork inspection prior to foundation footing concrete work.
- Footing drainage tile inspection.
- Rough-in inspection (prior to drywall) of plumbing, electrical, and heating and air conditioning.
- Concrete floors.
- Final inspection for occupancy.

Building inspectors do not observe construction from day-to-day. They will make an inspection only when the contractor has finished a particular phase. The inspector checks the finished product to the best of his ability; but cannot guarantee that everything was constructed properly.

Many building departments will require plumbers and electricians to be bonded for insurance for the correct installation of work. However, these bonds are refunded after the final inspection and cannot cover problems down the road.

You will notice from our list of inspections that the building codes do not address "cosmetic" elements. A limited list would include the quality of drywall taping, thorough applications of paint, ceramic tile being laid straight, or how tight wood trim joints are built.

If you visualize the number of finish elements in a construction project, you will begin to realize the concept of public safety enforced by building inspectors leaves you unprotected for a portion of your project.

If you are working with your own architect, a good idea is to pay an additional fee for their presence at the site during construction. If you are working with a builder, another possibility is to retain an independent consulting architect or home inspector to make observation trips above and beyond those made by the building department. They have the liberty to visit the site at any particular time, and see actual construction in progress.

No home inspector, architect or building inspector can guarantee the quality of your project.

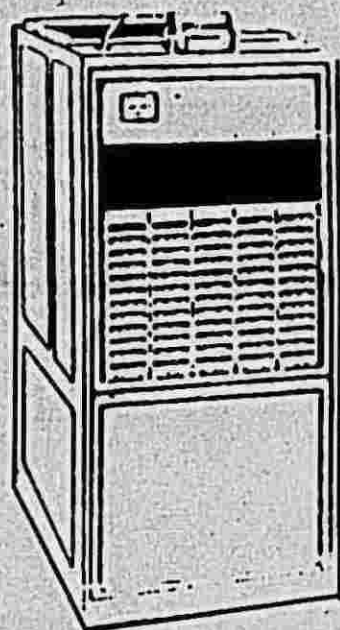

Only the builder or contractor can do this. But their representation for you on your project can furnish additional protection.—by RICHARD PREVES

Pan rack reduces kitchen clutter

Short on cupboard space and long on utensils? Build this handy, wall-mounted lid and pan rack! All you need is a few lengths of lumber, a saw, a hammer and an electric drill.

So many pots and pans—so little room! If that's your dilemma, there's an easy solution: A compact, wall-mounted rack that holds both pans and lids.

In the top section, two rows of dowels provide vertical storage for eight or nine lids, pie plates or trays; pots and pans can be hung from utensil hooks installed in the base. This handy kitchen storage rack, made from western softwood lumber, is so simple to build you can easily complete it in an afternoon.

The unit consists of two end pieces, cut from a 1x8, and three horizontal boards, made from 1x3s.

Cut the 1x8 into two lengths, each 8 inches long, then shape the ends with a saber saw, as shown.

Cut three lengths of 1x3, each 20 inches long. Using a 7/16 inch drill bit, drill eight 1/2-inch deep holes in the top edge of two of these boards. The holes, which hold the dowels in place, should be spaced evenly across the length of the boards, approximately 2-1/4 inches apart.

Position one of the drilled boards between the two end pieces, flush with the front edges and base. Attach with carpenter's glue and 2 inch finishing nails. Install the other drilled board 1-1/2 inches inside the back edge, flush with the base.

The third 1x3 is attached across the back, flush with the top of the ends.

You will need about six feet of 3/8 inch doweling, cut into 16 4-inch lengths. Smooth and round one end of the dowels with sandpaper. Insert the unfinished end into the hole, using three or four drops of carpenter's glue per hole to hold it in place. Install utensil hooks as shown.

Western softwoods take nicely to a wide range of finishes, from a clear top coat to deep-toned stains and paint.

One of the most popular light finishes today is the scrubbed pine look, which lets the natural beauty of the wood show through.

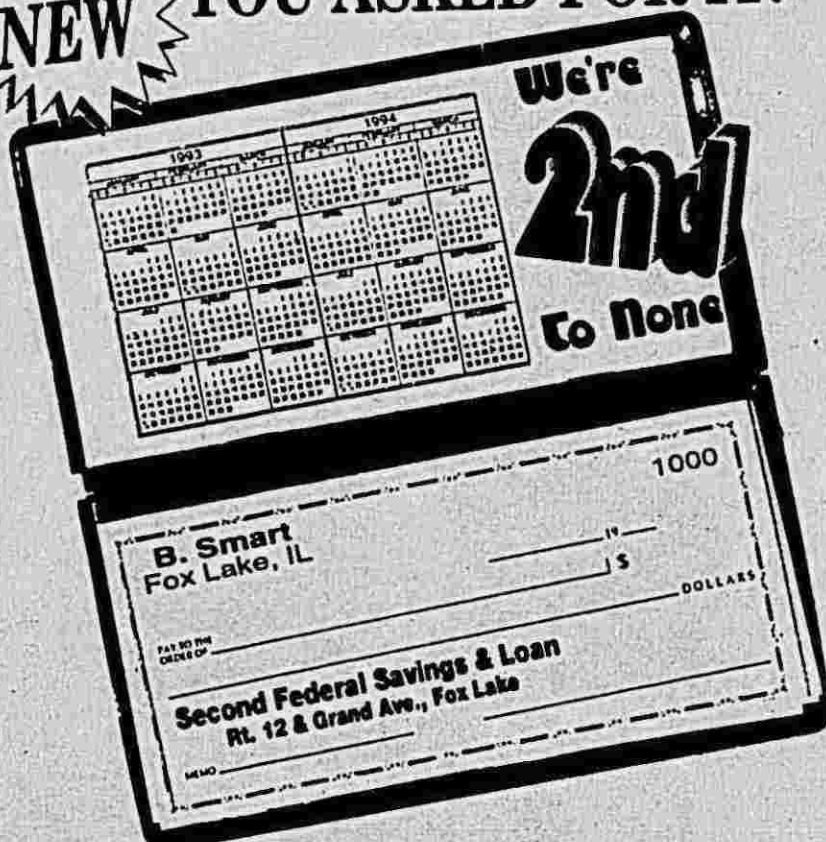

To achieve this finish, apply a coat of white wiping stain according to manufacturer's directions. When it's thoroughly dry, apply a clear top coat, such as polyurethane varnish, to protect the wood.

To mount the rack, drill two holes in the top 1x3 and attach the unit to wall studs with screws.

Be sure there's enough clearance below the rack to allow the pans to hang free.

Safety rules for using tools

Home improvement projects, while seemingly easy, nonetheless call for proper care and caution when it comes to using hand tools. Hand tools come in various sizes, shapes and degrees of hardness, depending on their intended uses. Any tool, no matter how durable, can fail if it is misused. Metal-to-metal contact under pressure, combined with a striking or twisting motion, can result in broken metal fragments that can cause injury. In the interest of do-it-yourself safety, here are some general rules from the Hand Tools Institute for the safe and proper use of hand tools:

- Follow the manufacturers' instructions on the packages.
- Wear safety goggles when using hand tools.
- Keep all tools in clean, working order.
- Use the tool only for the job it was meant to do.
- Buy several versions or sizes of the same tool to ensure the right tool for the job.
- Throw away damaged or abused tools promptly.
- Be sure tools, work are compatible.
- Be sure handles are fixed firmly into a tool's working end.
- Confine impact forces to striking and struck tools.

- Shut off current before using a tool near electricity.
- Hold work in a clamp or vise, not in your hand.
- Pull instead of push a wrench handle for safer leverage.
- Keep jaw teeth, cutter and blades sharp for better results.
- Use steady pressure on jaws and cutters; don't rock the tool.
- Keep a tool's moving parts properly cleaned and tightened.
- Use pads in the jaws to protect soft or crushable work.
- Keep tools from excessive heat.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am actively seeking employment after many years. I have been self employed in the home and therefore out of touch with the interview process as I once knew it. Friends have told me to be prepared to answer questions asked of me during the interview. I was hoping you could offer some insight as to what types of questions are often asked and a tip or two. Thank you in advance. R.B. - Lake Forest.

A: Dear R.B. Today's job market is very competitive and therefore requires more than just showing up for an interview. Prepare yourself in any way that you can. Here is a list of some of the most common asked questions we have found. Keep in mind that they are not in any particular order and not guaranteed to be asked since no two interviews are the same.

1. What are your strengths? 2. What are your weaknesses? 3. Why are you interested in working for this company? 4. Do you have references? 5. What did you like best about your last job? 6. What did you like least about your last position? 7. Why did you leave your employer? I have always found it best before answering any question during the interview, stop briefly, pull your thoughts together, take a deep breath and be sure what comes out is what you want the interviewer to hear. After the interview it is always wise to make some notes about what took place. The reason for this is that quite often it may be days or weeks before you are contacted by the company. If you've been avidly interviewing you may forget details or be confused as to which details belong to which interview. This includes the name of the person who interviewed you. You will want to remember the name of course because you don't want to forget that follow-up letter or card that you should send out to each prospective employer. The soul purpose of this letter or card is to thank them for taking the time to meet with you and at the same time, allowing you the opportunity to express your further interest in the company. I hope these tips help. Good luck.

Q: Dear...Search: While on an interview recently I asked the person interviewing me for his business card. A friend told me that I was wrong for asking for it. I don't see any harm in it, do you? E.H. - Libertyville.

A: Dear E.H. Ask away! It is the professional thing to do. If someone doesn't want you to have their card, they'll just say no!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

Every week, we have a special spot in our newspaper that's exactly right for that item you want to sell. If you tell us to run an ad for a car
you no longer need, we place
it in our CARS FOR SALE
classification (No. 80). Want to buy or sell a horse? Your ad goes in classification No.
42.

Why do we do it this way?
Because it's easier for our readers (your customers) to find your ad. No long search, no missing your ad because it's mixed in with rummage sales.
The next time you want to turn a no-longer needed item
into cash, give the Lakeland Newspapers a try. You'll be in the right place.

IN HONOR OF International Printing Week January 16-22, 1994

The first printing press was invented by Johann Gutenberg in Mainz, Germany sometime between 1440 and 1454, although printing from movable type was being done around the year 1000 in China by Pi Sheng. However, the Chinese found their complex language required far too many pieces to be practical. The first book printed by Gutenberg was the Bible in 1456. "The Freeman's Oath" was the first printed page in the United States and was done by Stephen Day in Cambridge, Mass in 1639.

Today, the printing industry uses the latest computer technology and is ever changing.

These fine lakeland area businesses and Lakeland Newspapers salute International Printing Week, January 16-22, 1994.

Mundelein's endurance just too much for Rams

It was a moment to freeze frame in the history of Grayslake basketball.

The Rams' sixth man John Parr made an inside move and slammed the ball against the mighty Mundelein Mustang defense. The basket gave the home team a 24-24 tie with 3:34 left before halftime. A basket by Jason Horvath 20 seconds later electrified the Grayslake fans among the 1,100 to watch Saturday's non-conference contest.

But that was akin to trying to fool Mother Nature. Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel called a time-out, the Mustangs regrouped and took a three-point halftime lead. The 14-1 Mustangs erased all doubt with a 12-0 run to start the second half.

Grayslake (9-5) Coach Greg Groth does not believe in moral victories, but saw areas where the Rams played well. Such as the defense of Kyle Kessel (18 points).

"We made an adjustment. David (Mandralla) always plays on the top on the defense and put Todd Alfred (15 points) on top. I thought Todd made an absolutely great effort playing defense," Groth said. "All in all, we played good defense and picked up two or three charges. We had chances."

"If that is the best team in Lake County, we are pretty damn good," Groth said.

Mustang Coach Kessel gave his view on how the Rams, Northwest Suburban Conference leaders, stand. "I think they would be in the middle-of-the-pack in the North Suburban," he said.

As for whether or not the Rams deserve a top eight sectional seed, Kessel said that is up for other coaches to determine. "Grayslake deserves consideration. A team with a nice record should be rewarded," he said.

"I would presume their weakness would be their bench because they do not sub very much. We were hoping to get to their bench," Groth said.

Gerald Coleman - who had 27 in an 84-64 win over Warren, had 14 points. Thad Miller led the inside effort, something the Rams did not have enough of, with 12 and Sean Stackhouse had 12 points.

Senior Geoff Sponholtz had 22 for the Rams. Leading scorer Mandralla was held to half his average with 11 points in part due to a trapping MHS defense.

Mundelein is at Antioch Jan. 14.

Grayslake, still king-of-the-hill in the Northwest, is at Johnsburg Jan. 14.

Grayslake stayed even with Mundelein at 6-6 at the outset. Coleman's hoop tied it, but a three-pointer by Alfred gave the Rams a 13-10 lead.

A bucket by Sponholtz capped a 7-for-19 shooting quarter and a 15-14 Grayslake lead.

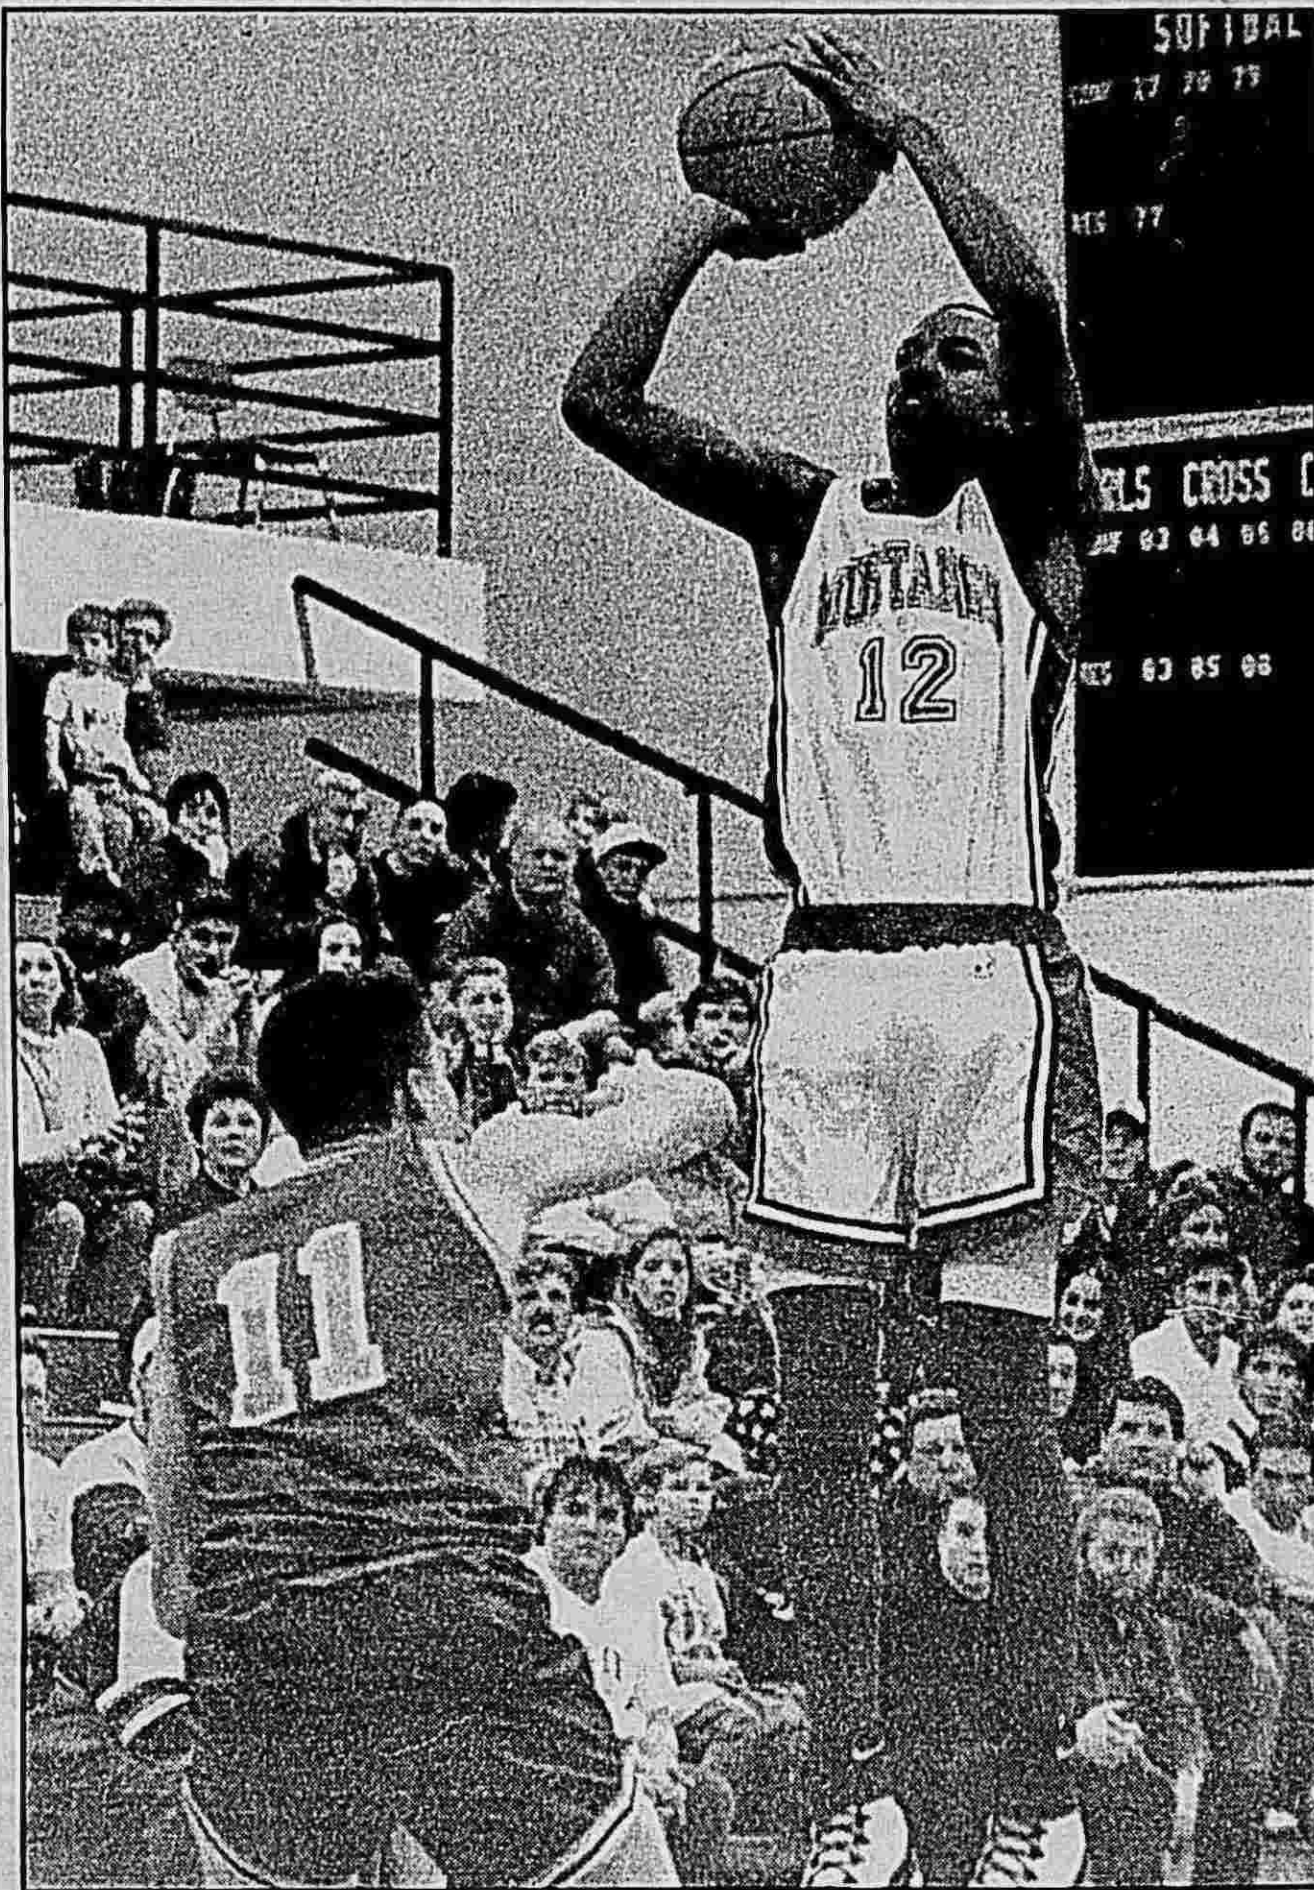

Three Kessel free throws gave the Mustangs a four-point lead early in the second. Then came Parr's slam as Mundelein was mired in a three-for-15 shooting slump.

"Our top five players came to the forefront. We knew it was there. As cold as Kyle was and Gerald with three fouls, we felt the trap was what we needed to do," Kessel said.

"I did not think we were worried. We shot horribly the first half. We were missing lay-ups; I was missing shots I normally make.

Mundelein powerhouse Sean Stackhouse goes up for two. The Mustangs are leading the North Suburban Conference with a season record of 14-1 and are a sure bet to gain the top seed for the Waukegan Sectional.— Photo by Gene Gabry

CLC wrestlers preparing for second half challenges

College of Lake County wrestler Steve Fuller's fourth-place finish at 142 pounds gave the Lancers a highlight at a tourney at Carthage Saturday.

"Steve was in command in both matches he lost. He was up 2-0 but got caught in a move. In the third match, he got caught in a four-point move and lost 9-7," CLC Coach Stan Pasiewicz said.

Fuller, from Mundelein, is a freshman. His win at Kenosha came over Kris Wedell of Concordia in a 7-5 victory.

"He has a lot to learn," Pasiewicz said. "He works hard."

Brian Larsen, a sophomore in his first year in wrestling, has some ability, but needs to keep his attitude and confidence up. He lost close decisions at Carthage, 5-4 and 3-1.

Another sophomore who has shown promise for the second half of the year is John Keaskowski from Round Lake. He lost 5-1 in the title round at 150 pounds.

Mike Tomassello, a Warren grad, "worked hard but was outclassed" at 126 pounds, according to the coach.

Rick Quigley, a sophomore, dislocated a finger, but was expected back for a Jan. 12 battle, again at Carthage.

CLC, 1-6 in duals, lost to Waubensee 30-24 but beat College of DuPage, 30-6 on forfeits Friday at home.

CLC is at Milwaukee Area Technical College for a dual 7:30 p.m. Jan. 14. Next is the Marantha Bible College meet in Watertown, Wis. Jan. 15.

Communication proves key for Lancers women in win

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Remember those old walkie talkies you asked for as a youngster but never really worked?

College of Lake County's women basketball players are firm believers in the devices following a 79-57 win over Kishwaukee Saturday.

Coach Don Zeman, you see, was banned from the contest from an official rather early, 8:23 still left in the first half. For the next 27 minutes, Zeman communicated through a walkie talkie while Sue Garcia took the bench duties. Zeman watched from one of the offices above the gym. The end result was a much-needed non-conference win.

"I never expected it to happen. We thought the official had a short fuse, but I should not have put myself in that position," Zeman said.

Heather Ford led the winners with 20 points as four players netted double digits. Ford made all second half free-throws, 8 for 8 for the game.

"I have been working on shooting and focusing on the rim. We have a lot more confidence in our offense," Ford, a Wauconda grad, said.

Another WHS grad, Amy Scharlau, had 15

as did Warren grad Julie Frankowski. Patty Owens had 14 and Christy Zink nine.

"She has been one of our better free-throw shooters the last two years," Zeman said.

The coach noted a quirk of his team as the squad put its best point total on the board for 1993-94.

"As we are more patient, we are able to score more points. They had to experience it to realize it," he said.

CLC was ahead only 17-16 when Zeman got the heave-ho. Kishwaukee took a lead at 23-22, but the home team took charge.

Three hoops from Ford, one from Owens and another by Frankowski gave CLC a 33-26 lead in the first half. Owens completed the run for an eight-point half-time lead.

The Kougars could not get on track after their first second half hoop. The CLC lead reached 10 on a fastbreak lay-up by Zink, 12 on a hoop by Ford and 16 points, 58-42, with 10 minutes left on a Melina Vick basket.

The Saturday win helped make up for a poor start in a Skyway Conference loss to Waubensee and ended a four-game loss string. The Lancers, losers of two games at the College of DuPage tourney, host Oakton at 5 p.m. Jan. 18.

Substitutes carve a niche on area basketball teams

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

They don't receive Ken Clay-like introductions when they enter the basketball game. And now, coming in at small forward, a junior... it's just not the same.

While starters battle it out in the early going, they sit with their uniform jackets on, most waiting for the game to become lopsided or wait to play Saturday morning or Monday afternoon.

Yet, coaches acknowledge the importance of players in reserve roles.

Here is a sampling of how some subs have been effective:

Corey Wierema is usually the first player off the bench for Mundelein, the king of Lake County at 14-1. Wierema a 5-9 senior guard, along with 6-5 senior forward Eric Tonkery and 6-2 junior forward Doug Healey.

"They are asked to give me about a minute, hold their own on offense, play good defense and help us a lot," Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel said.

Carmel reserve Tom Drennan gave fans at the Crystal Lake Central game an example of how important a non-starter can be. He scored 10 points in Carmel's 65-53 win over Crystal Lake Central.

"He does well off the bench. He struggled Friday against St. Patrick and was shutout, so he had something to prove. You are forced to go in and perform. It takes a certain mentality to do that," Carmel Coach Ben Berg said.

Grant High reached the 10-win mark with a 73-66 win over Marian Central. Bill Richards came off the bench with 14 points.

Coach Tom Maple explained Richards and Dan Dunleavy have been splitting starting the center position.

"It takes the pressure of Ingram (Mike) and Filiatreault (Kurt) to score. Both are also good rebounders," Maple said.

Antioch has struggled this year with a 4-11 mark, but substitutes have contributed.

Adam Becker is first off the bench and the senior scored 11 points against Grant, 12 in a one-point loss to Stevenson.

Chris Hintz came in and gave the Sequoias five rebounds. "He did a good job with interior defense," Coach Jeff Dresser said of a 64-63 loss to the Pats.

While injuries to starters may get the headlines, teams feel the absence of reserves as well. Sean Noland is out with a knee injury and Chris Ganter is out with a sprained ankle.

"We are still feeling our way. It has only been three weeks since Kenyon Catchings left. We are looking for consistency. We are not smooth in roles of guys coming off the bench," Stevenson Coach Ken Johnson said.

Still, the Pats have won four of the last six for an 8-5, 3-3 mark.

Libertyville reserve Eric Fischer earned a start after frosh J. R. Jurecko was ill before a contest with Warren.

Chad Lee and Eric Frickholm are underclassmen who have experienced some playing time.

"They are coming off the bench and doing a good job," Sanders said.

Lancers regroup for league tests which loom at home

College of Lake County's mens basketball team was able to remain competitive with Kishwaukee for about six minutes Saturday.

Then it was time for a show of dunking ability by the visitors from the DeKalb area town of Malla. For the record, CLC slipped to 4-12 with a 132-94 loss.

Mike Rudd had 18 points, 15 in the second half, when CLC was already out of contention.

"He is a steady player," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said about Rudd, of Libertyville.

Smith described the No. 9 ranked Kougars (16-1) as "one of the better teams we have played for awhile."

Justin Hanlin gave the Lancers their last glimpse of being close to Kishwaukee at 15-11 on a hoop and finished with 16 points.

CLC hosts Oakton in a 7 p.m. game Jan. 18. In the Skyway Conference opener at Waubesa, the Lancers trailed by only four at half-time but could not get over the hump in a 75-68 loss. Ramsey Williams, of North Chicago, had 17 points. Hanlin, a Warren graduate, had 16.

Smith is optimistic for the league race, saying it is still wide open. Elgin follows Oakton, Jan. 20 away.

Here's an amazing football fact... There was once a quarterback who played pro football for 10 years—and in each of the 10 years he played, his team finished in first place!... The man who set that unique record was Otto Graham... He quarterbacked the Cleveland Browns from 1946 through 1955, and in every one of those seasons, the Browns wound up in first place!

Did you know a woman once coached a major college football team?... At Yale, their famous coach Walter Camp was ill one season in the 1880s and was unable to attend practices or games... His wife went to all the practices and games for him, and actually coached the Yale football team that year.

What was the coldest weather any major football game was ever played in?... It's believed that the record was set in the 1967 National Football League playoff game between Green Bay and Dallas which Green Bay won 24-17... At game time, it was 13 below zero with an icy 15-mile-an-hour north wind which made the wind-chill factor, according to the U.S. weather bureau, equal to 60 below!

ACHS boys challenge Pats, brace for elite of league

Stevenson's Peter Ferguson had a weekend to remember, no matter what transpires the rest of this season and next.

The junior scored 31 points in an 89-70 romp of North Chicago, then was the hero in Stevenson's thrilling 64-63 win over Antioch.

"He is maturing a lot and plays a good floor game. He can play both point and off-guard and averages four or five assists a game," Stevenson Coach Ken Johnson said.

Ferguson ended both North Chicago and then Antioch's hopes for an upset. Against North Chicago, it was his 18 second-half points which allowed the Pats to pull away.

Antioch led host Stevenson 63-61 when Ferguson took the ball out of bounds in the final seconds. "We had three options, and he was one of them. He made a nice cut and was fouled and made the free-throw," Johnson said.

Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser, whose team led by three with 90 seconds left, called the foul a controversial one. The Sequoits got the ball to Eric Eckenstahler, but time ran out.

Ferguson led Stevenson (8-5, 3-3 North Suburban Conference) with 20 points. Eli Howayek had 14, Quentin Simicek 13.

Stevenson led by six after one and by nine at half-time, but Antioch (4-11, 0-6 NSC) recovered with a 17-11 third quarter.

Tony Kucharski led Antioch with 17 points. Adam Becker had 12, including a game-tying three-pointer.

The win over Antioch was a big confidence booster for the juniors, who only won nine games as sophomores and lost to the Sequoits badly last year.

Ferguson, Tyler Hawkins (13 points against North Chicago) and Simicek are leading the junior-oriented Pats. They may not be ready for Mundelein, but the team has matured a lot since Christmas, according to Johnson.

Stevenson is at Lake Forest for a 7:30 p.m. clash Jan. 14.

"Lake Forest is a good team with three seniors. They go six-foot-six inches 6-5, 6-4 and we do not have a starter taller than 6-4," Johnson said.

Antioch had plenty of bright spots to look at as it prepares to host two of the county's best teams, Mundelein Jan. 14 and Zion-Benton Jan. 15, both at 7:30 p.m.

"It was a different attitude. Friday was a disaster," Dresser said.

An 18-5 Lake Forest second quarter run sealed the fifth NSC loss, a 60-35 performance Antioch would like to forget. Dan Newcomb, a 6-3 senior forward, led the way with 13 points and Eckenstahler had 11.

On Saturday, Dresser said the team did a good job of handling Stevenson's press.

On Kucharski, a 5-11 senior guard: "the last couple of games he has scored more for us. He can hit the two or three-pointers and drive and take a jumper," Dresser said.

Grant claims title, Rams to regroup

Grayslake High's girls bowling team will have a chance to redeem itself next week in Algonquin.

The Rams return to the same alley where they finished 13 of 14 teams at the Jacobs Invitational. The Rams had a team score of 1712, which Coach Glenn Watt described as well below average.

The Rams take on Jacobs Jan. 18 before facing Warren at Bertrand's Jan. 20. Things did not get any easier for the team, which faced power Antioch Tuesday.

Grant, however, found success Saturday.

Carla Frechette had a 153, 127 and 111 for a 391 to lead the Rams at Jacobs tourney.

Heather Hill had a 347 with scores of 100, 118 and 129. Caryn Krewer had a 298 on scores of 105, 89 and 109. Nikki Moretti had a 359.

"We had a long layoff. We have a lot of work to do," Watt said.

Grant won the "B"

bracket as Stacy McBreen had a 586 series on games of 209, 199 and 178.

Courtney Cowell had a 492 with games of 185, 184 and 123.

McBreen was the outstanding bowler of the tourney, according to Coach Ted Johnson.

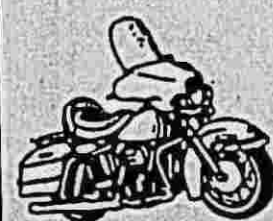

"We knew we needed a 745 in the last game series to win it and the girls brought it home with a 781," Johnson said.

Of note, Palatine Fremd, winners of the "A" bracket, is coached by Grant grad Jerry Cap, a Fox Lake resident.

Antioch girls look for full game effort in NSC battles

Antioch girls basketball coach Dave Woods probably brings up the point during most practices, if not at all time-outs.

Basketball is a game of 32 minutes. Not 24 or 16. And the sooner the Sequoits realize that the sooner they will be able to compete in the North Suburban Conference.

Case in point came Saturday at home. The Sequoits played even or slightly trailed Mundelein in the third or fourth quarter points, but could not overcome a first-half deficit in a 50-40 loss.

"The big factor against Mundelein was we only played for two quarters and shot 27 percent from the field. You can't do that and expect to win games," Woods said.

What helped Mundelein was Lynn T'Niemi, who had a career-best 22 points. Tiffany Campbell added 13 for the Mustangs (4-3 NSC, 7-7 overall).

"We are playing more disciplined. We are not trying to force something. We are willing to go through the offense two or three sets," Mundelein Coach Rick Foss said.

Campbell led the Mustangs with 15 rebounds, nine defensively. T'Niemi had nine rebounds, Kelsey MacCullom eight.

While Antioch struggled from the field,

Mundelein shot the lights out at nearly 61 percent.

"That was one of the best games we have played in a long time," Foss said.

Maline Gooch added 13 for Antioch (1-6, 5-11).

"We played adequate defense. We did not shoot the ball well," Woods said.

There were no major changes in the second half, but Woods did challenge the Sequoits to represent themselves better.

"We stress playing four quarters. We're getting closer, but the little things are hurting us," he said.

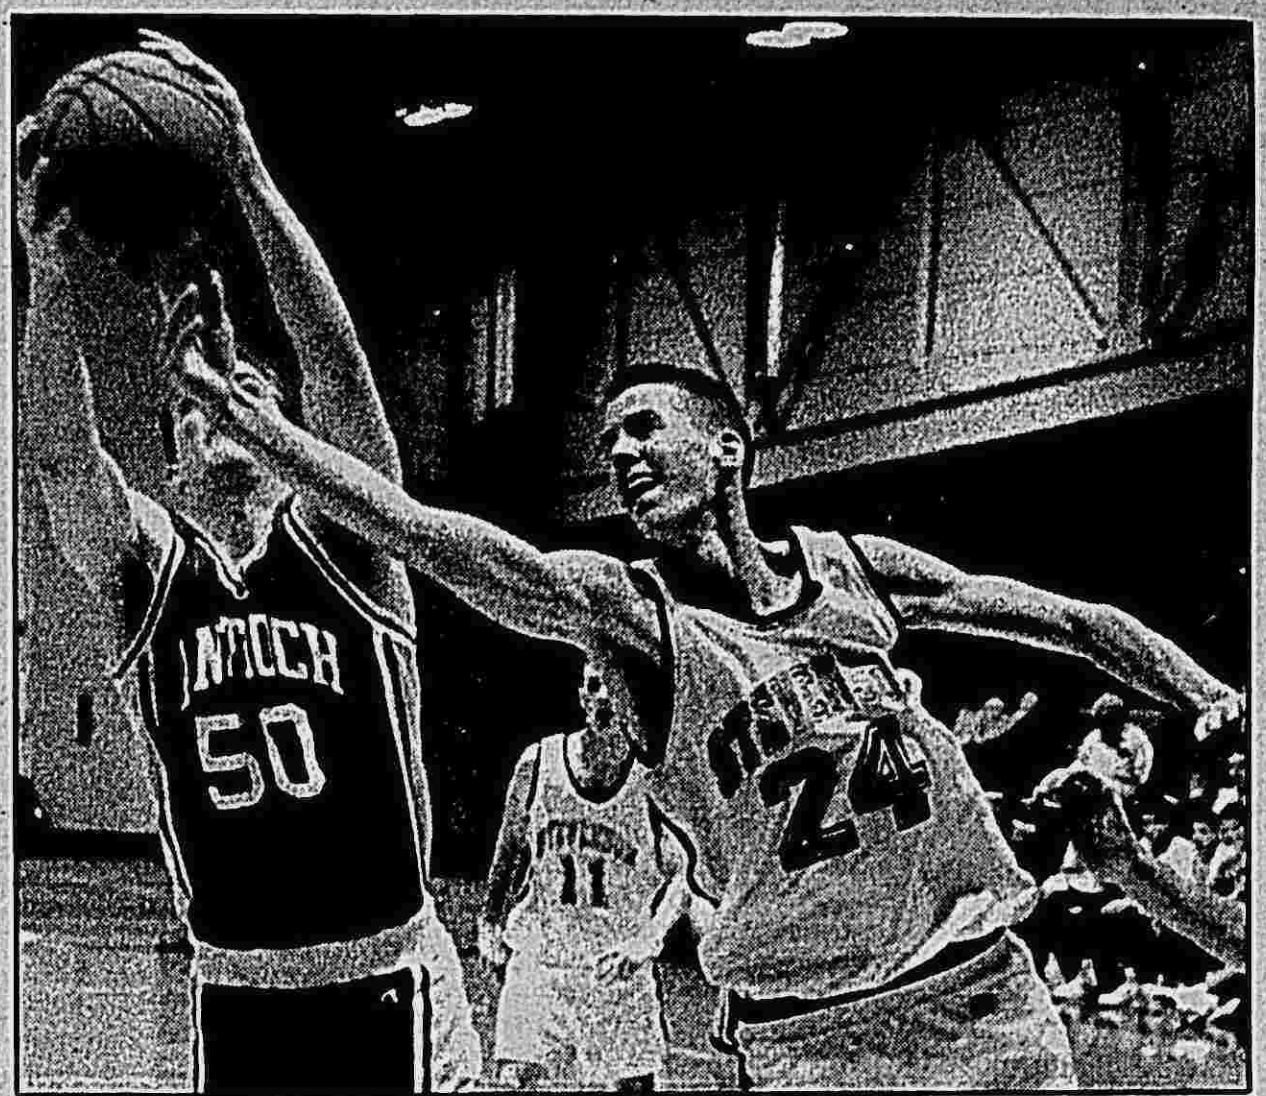

Antioch actually won the battle of the free-throw line 14-8, but Mundelein had a huge 21-10 difference in field goals.

Antioch, after battling Zion-Benton Jan. 13, is at Fenton Jan. 15 at 2:30 p.m. Mundelein is at Libertyville at 2:30 p.m.

One reason for a 12-7 deficit after one quarter could be the Sequoits were still in shell shock after an 86-29 loss to Stevenson.

"Stevenson has great athletes, but why were two starters in there?," Woods said.

Mundelein battled the Patriots Tuesday. The Mustangs are shooting for a 5-3 conference finish in the second half and 9-7 NSC mark.

Enigma improves record, faces Libertyville next

Highland Park met the red hot Lindenhurst Enigma (U-19) and went down in defeat 4-0. The Enigma improved their record to 7-0-1 and face Libertyville next week for first place.

The game remained close at the half with the score only 1-0 in favor of the score only 1-0 in favor of the Enigma. The second half was all Enigma with Angel Giangiorgi earning the shutout in the goal. Enigma standouts: Colene Hardy (2 goals), Kelly Landgren (goal and assist), Jaimee Rinehart (goal), Tanya Wiewel (2 assists), Sarah Ayre (assist), and Jaimee Porter (defense). The Enigma games are played at Soccer Enterprises-Highland Park.

The Lindenhurst Power (U-13) found themselves back in action after a two week layoff and came away with a 1-1 tie with the Trevians from Winnetka. The Power once again had a strong game with plenty of shots, but only one finding the net. That goal was scored by Sarah Richardson—the assist credited to Maureen Moran. The Trevian score was on a disputed goal with keeper Kristina Giangiorgi making the stop at the goal line, but as team officials put it, "someone blew the call," and the goal was allowed. Other standout players for the Power were Jourdan Phillips and Tracie Foster. The Power also plays at Soccer Enterprises-Highland Park.

Opening up their indoor season at Poplar Creek Sports Centre, the Lindenhurst Stars (U-13) got off on the right foot by beating the Purple Posse 6-3. Good aggressive team play was the key to victory. Leading the scoring for the Stars were Samie Korbal and Amie Carlberg with two goals each, followed by Mandy Fasano and Megan Rinkenberger with one each. Susan Gosciniak and Megan Rinkenberger shared time in the nets. This team was formed just last fall and had a successful outdoor season. This is their first time playing indoors.

Royal Eagles top Highland Park

The Lindenhurst Royal Eagles Under-10 soccer team earned a second place finish after completing their first indoor season at Soccer Enterprises in Highland Park. In their final two games they defeated the Highland Park Giants, 6-1, and lost a close contest to the Waukegan Fire, 4-2.

In the Highland Park Game the Eagles' Erik Carlberg opened the scoring six minutes into the game with a hard left-footed volley high into the net. Highland Park scored an equalizer before Brian Halvey put the Eagles ahead at halftime with a nice assist from Ryan Jordan. The Eagles' Adam Placko exploded for a three-goal hat-trick in the second half, and Ryan Jordan added a goal. Assists were credited to Kevin Mark and Kevin Mathewson. Adam Jordan played solidly in goal, and the defense was anchored by Kaleb Barrett, David Calvert, Ramesh Kumar, Nate Rimkus and Tom Woodruff.

Best days are yet to come for Antioch wrestler Haag

Chris Haag is among several Antioch High wrestlers with at least nine wins heading into the season's second half.

Haag tops them all in the win category with 13 wins against five losses in his senior year.

"He is strong and shown an lot of dedication and hard work. He worked hard over summer camps and he has improved," Antioch Coach Ted Sieckowski said.

Sieckowski coached Haag at Antioch Upper Grade School and believes the best days are yet to come.

"He may peak after college. He has such tremendous endurance. He can keep the pressure on," he said.

Lucas Dyer is 12-6 at 103; Steve Zalopi is 11-4 at 125 as is Jason Krause at 130. Chris Petykowski is 11-5 at 119.

John Asmund is 9-6 at 171 as is Joe Earl at 145. Justin Dyer is 9-6 at 112 and soph Jason Breen is 8-7 at 152 pounds.

Stevenson could be the next big dual meet in the North Suburban Conference and that is Jan. 14.

Two die in Fox River snowmobile crash

by SPENCER SCHEIN

Lakeland Newspapers

McHenry County Sheriff and Coroner officials are continuing an investigation of a head-on snowmobile accident on the Fox River near Crystal Lake, which led to the death of both drivers.

The two men, Harry C. Hammond, 38, of Cary and Kurt Kaufhold, 24, of Streamwood, died of head trauma, a McHenry County spokeswoman said.

Hammond was pronounced dead at the scene by Mary Jo Coonen, McHenry County Coroner's office chief investigator, while Kaufhold died at the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry after being transported there by Wauconda rescue.

"It was just an unfortunate circumstance," the spokeswoman said.

She said both men were wearing helmets and no evidence of alcohol was found. The men were not related, nor friends.

She said they were investigating the possibility of the accident being caused by high speed.

Fluids drawn from both bodies were sent to a forensics toxicology lab for further testing, and those results will not become available to the public until the coroner's inquest, which Coonen has yet to set.

Autopsies were not performed on either of the two, as Coonen said their injuries were already apparent.

The sheriff's office reported Hammond was traveling southbound and Kaufhold northbound when they collided on the river adjacent to the 4300 block of S. Riverside Drive, Crystal Lake.

McHenry County Deputy Sheriff George Shirey said the headlights from both snowmobiles were sent to a crime lab in the afternoon on Jan. 7, where they were being tested to see if they were on at the time of impact. He said the vehicle's speed had not yet been determined.

When officials arrived on the scene, unidentified people were performing CPR on Kaufhold, said David A. Dato, chief of the Wauconda Fire Department.

The medical center had sent a Flight for Life helicopter to transport Kaufhold to a level one trauma center, but when it met Wauconda's ambulance, Kaufhold had gone into cardiac arrest, and it was determined he should be taken to the center by ground, Dato said.

He died soon after arriving at the hospital.

Illinois State Conservation police also arrived on the scene and are continuing to investigate.

The two deaths were the first fatalities related to snowmobiles on the Fox River since 1988, Coonen said, when a man fell through the ice and his body was not recovered until up to four weeks later.

Del Re will bring views consistent with Grinnell

by BILL DERMODY

Lakeland Newspapers

The county's new under sheriff says he will bring leadership to the position. Under Sheriff Gary Del Re was introduced in a press conference at the Sheriff's Department's Waukegan headquarters.

Del Re will begin his term on Feb. 7, replacing Willie Smith. Smith will be working with Del Re for an indefinite period to ease the transition, according to Sheriff Grinnell.

According to Grinnell, the under sheriff position can be viewed as "the chief of police of the department. He is responsible for all the divisions in the office."

Previous to his position with the sheriff's department, Del Re served 21 years in the Buffalo Grove Police Department, rising to Commander in 1981. Other Department responsibilities included Internal Affairs Director, Media and Public Relations spokesman, Accreditation associate manager, and overall direction of three functional divisions of the Department. Del Re also served as Task Force Commander of the Lake County Major Crimes Task Force, an elite 37 member agency organization designed to address the county's most complex crime problems.

"Law enforcement is being challenged by a tidal wave of issues of unprecedented number," said Del Re. "Our ability to function effectively depends largely on how well we lead. My vision for the Sheriff's Office will be consistent with Sheriff Grinnell's. That is to provide a clear, understandable picture of our future and that of the Lake County community."

Chief warns sledders

by TINA L. SWIECH

Lakeland Newspapers

"It's not that I'm against them, it's just that we don't have any room for them," said Police Chief Eugene Bach of Island Lake.

What was once a recreation town, almost welcoming the buzzing of snowmobiles, is being built up by housing developments which have cut many miles of trails.

Two things are of major concerns to Bach regarding the sleds are the difficult access of trails and designated riding areas for sledders, as well as the safety of the riders and others who may be in their path.

A serious accident last week on the Fox River in which two men were killed after their machines collided, is something that should be thought of as a warning to all sledders.

"I was hoping pictures of the accident would be on the front page for a few days to teach some people a lesson," Bach said.

"This is typical of what we feel is going to happen (in this community)," the chief added.

Numerous complaints from Island Lake residents have been coming into the police station about snowmobiles running over people's lawns, sometimes digging their skis down into the gravel near lot lines.

Bach explained, "They get stuck trying to get from the river to the gas station, and then they don't know where to go. They should be returning to the river, but they get lost and end up in people's yards."

EHS Health Care unit acquires Concerned Care, Inc.

EHS Home Health Care Service Inc., Oak Brook, a division of EHS Health Care, announced the acquisition of Concerned Care, Inc., a private duty nursing service based in Skokie.

The acquisition, which will allow EHS Home Health Care to provide additional services throughout metropolitan Chicago, was reported by Lloyd Dean, president of the EHS division, and George L. Martin, Concerned Care's chief executive officer.

HealthSource, Inc., a unit of EHS Home Health Care Service, acquired Concerned Care, which will continue to operate under its existing name and management.

"We are pleased Concerned Care is joining us," Dean said. "This is a long-standing operation with excellent employees and a reputation for providing consistently high quality care."

Dean also observed that Concerned Care's mission statement parallels that of EHS Home Health Care Service's parent organization, EHS Health Care. Both mission statements focus on providing competent and compassionate care while recognizing each individual's right to be treated with respect and dignity.

Concerned Care expects to have revenues of about $5 million for 1993, generated primarily by private duty nursing services. Other services include intermittent nursing and personal care. It provides more than 100,000 hours of care annually.

The firm provides services throughout the Chicago metropolitan area from offices located in Skokie, Des Plaines and St. Charles. The company is certified for Medicare and accredited by the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.

EHS Home Health Care Service is the largest home health care company in the Chicago area. It made 96,000 patient visits in 1992 and estimates it made 130,000 visits in 1993, a 35 percent increase. The home health care company provides skilled nursing services; infusion therapy services and pharmaceuticals; physical, occupational and speech therapies; home health aides; durable medical equipment and perinatal services.

EHS Health Care is one of the largest health care providers in the Chicago area. It owns five hospitals with more than 1,800 beds, skilled nursing facilities outpatient centers, physician office buildings and a mental health counseling service.

EHS announced plans to affiliate with Ravenswood Hospital Medical Center, a 462-bed facility on Chicago's northwest side. EHS also has affiliated with the University of Illinois and its Chicago College of Medicine, the largest in the nation. The UIC College of Medicine will be the primary medical college affiliate of EHS Christ Hospital and Medical Center, Oak Lawn, which will become a site for the college's undergraduate and graduate education, research and faculty practice. The affiliation agreement also links the entire EHS organization with the university's other academic and research programs in the health sciences as well as the UI Hospital and Clinics.

In addition, EHS and Lutheran General Health-System, Park Ridge, each own 50 percent of Health Direct, a managed care organization that operates both a PPO and HMO in the Chicago region.

Manic-depressive treatment available

"...I have suspected for some time now that you may have a condition that I want to discuss with you. Don't be frightened, but I think you are manic-depressive..." and so began Patty Duke's road to recovery according to her 1992 account in "A Brilliant Madness: Living with Manic-Depressive Illness" (published by Bantam Books).

After years of experiencing dramatic swings in her mood, Duke discovered a physician who could diagnose her illness. And with diagnosis came treatment.

Manic-depressive illness is a mood disorder marked by moods which swing between ecstatic highs and depressive lows. Approximately two to three million Americans suffer from this debilitating but treatable disorder. The National Institute of Mental Health defines this illness as involving episodes of serious mania and depression.

During the "lows" or depressed phase of this illness, a person may have any or all of these symptoms: Feelings of hopelessness; persistent sad, anxious or empty mood; feelings of guilt, worthlessness or helplessness; loss of interest or pleasure in ordinary activities including sex; decreased energy; difficulty concentrating, remembering or making decisions; loss of appetite and weight loss or gain; thoughts of death or suicide; suicide attempts.

Contrasting greatly are the "highs" or manic phase of the illness. During this phase, a person may have some or all of these symptoms: Excessive highs or euphoria; a lasting period of behavior that is different from the usual; increased energy, racing thoughts, rapid speech; decreased need for sleep; unrealistic beliefs about his/her power and ability; uncharacteristic poor judgment; obnoxious, provocative or intrusive behavior.

Some of these manic episodes are characterized by spending sprees, giving lavish gifts, a preoccupation with making phone calls, and making plans for big business deals.

Experts have long identified this illness as a medical condition resulting from a problem with brain chemistry. Several medications, such as lithium, have proven effective in treating manic-depressive illness. Even so, only an estimated 27 percent of people with manic-depressive illness receive treatment for it.

Help for manic-depressives and their families is available in Lake County. Immediate assistance is available through the Victory Memorial Hospital Mental Health 24-Hour Hot Line, 360-4082. This confidential emergency hot line is staffed by professional mental health counselors and nurses. For referral to a therapist familiar with manic-depressive illness, call Victory's free Physician Referral Service at 360-4101.
